

Scenes Around Sedalia

SURPRISE!—D. Kelly Scruton worked until after 4:30 a.m. today reporting the troubles other people were having because of the ice storm. Then, tired and cold, he returned home. Thanks to the familiar corner, he made it. If it hadn't been for that, he might have missed the place entirely since the ice and wind had almost hidden his home with downed trees limbs. Photographers noticed later Thursday morning he had prudently parked his car far away from any tree limbs that might give up the spirit and tumble to the ground. (Democrat-Capital photos)

Ice Causes Damages In MPSC Area

The heavy icy conditions which started at approximately 6 p.m. Wednesday have caused extensive damage to Missouri Public Service Company's facilities, Clinton Black, MPS District Engineer at Sedalia announced today.

"This is the worst ice storm which we have experienced over such a large area for a number of years," Black said. "Almost all of the company's service area has been severely affected."

"There are literally hundreds of wires down and others are still falling," the MPS District Engineer stated. "Line crews have been working all night and will continue working until all service has been restored. MPS line crews have been brought in to the damaged area from as far north as Trenton and up from Clinton in our Southern Missouri service territory. The company has also hired a number of contract crews to assist with the repairs."

MPS facilities have been severely damaged in the following counties: Clay, Ray, Jackson, Lafayette, Cass, Johnson, Pettis and Benton counties.

Black acknowledged that local conditions were quite severe and stated that MPS crews were working around the clock in order to restore service.

Questionable Air Power Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., protested today that U.S. airpower in the Vietnam war is being crippled and downgraded by questionable target restrictions. "Most people do not understand why the application of this arm of our over-all military strength is subjected to fluctuating political decisions to a point never known in military history," Symington said in a Senate speech.

The address came on the heels of word from informed sources that the Johnson administration has barred American pilots from flying within five miles of the center of Hanoi, but Symington did not discuss that particular development.

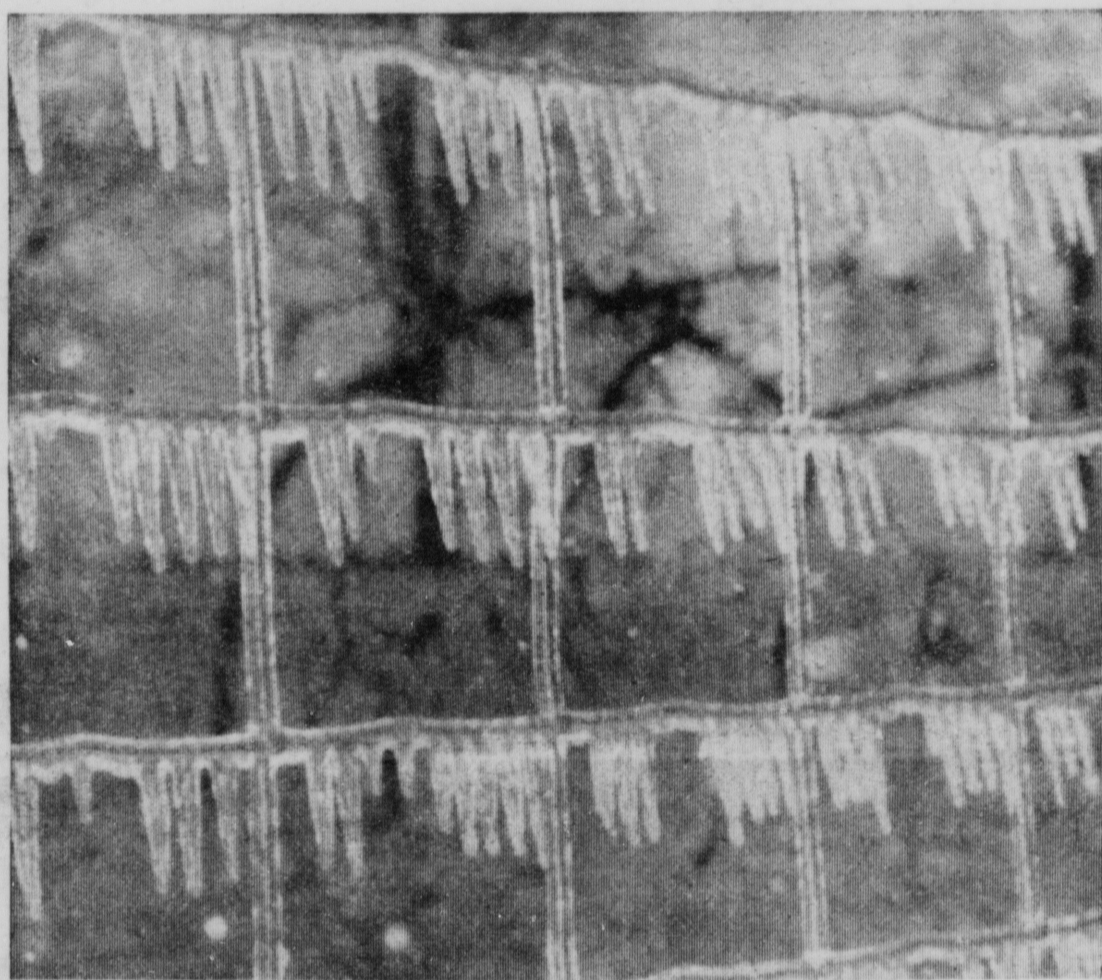

The senator, a former secretary of the Air Force who has visited the Vietnam war area three times in the past year, quoted combat pilots as protesting these limitations, including "seven pages of detailed instructions" on target restrictions.

U.S. pilots are prohibited from attacking enemy airfields and ships loaded with military supplies, Symington said, and then directed to bomb targets in the jungles.

The senator said the enemy has introduced sophisticated ground and air defenses that are taking an increasing toll of U.S. pilots and aircraft.

"We should use our superior airpower to eliminate meaningful military targets in North Vietnam," he said. "Otherwise there is little chance of permanent success in our over-all effort."

Touch of Scenic Beauty

TEARS OF ICE — Although the ice storm brought trouble almost everywhere, some touches of serene beauty were found. This fence is a good example. The object was to take a picture of a tree bent double on the other side of the fence, but instead the camera picked up these graceful, sculptured pieces of ice. Light specks in the picture are flakes of snow which started falling with a will about 9 a.m.

Some Areas Blacked Out

REASON WHY—Some dead trees, such as this one on North Grand, didn't have the strength to take the punishment borne by their more alive neighbors. The results are shown here. The tree limbs fell all over the city, in many cases bringing down electric wires. When that occurred, power in the area went down with the lines. Most of Sedalia was blacked out for a short time during the night, and some of the rural areas were having the same problems even through noon Thursday.

On Almost Any Street

WIND AND ICE—It took that combination to bring this huge limb crashing down on North Grand Thursday morning. Fortunately, the house was spared. The limb looks like it's resting on the roof top of the building when actually several large limbs were holding it up. Many houses were not as fortunate as this one and property damage was expected to rise as damage assessments were made.

Area Struck By Ice Storm; Heavy Damage To Utilities

Many Homes Damaged By Ice-Laden Tree Limbs

Sedalia, with the exception of a small southwest area, was plunged into darkness as the result of an ice storm which affected electric power service at 11:28 p.m. Wednesday. It was about 12:10 a.m. Thursday that partial power was restored and with the exception of a few homes electricity was back on. However, street lights over the city were off and on throughout the remainder of the night and early morning.

The storm played havoc throughout the city, and was the direct cause of the original power failure when wires became shorted by drooping ice-covered limbs.

Hearing On Emergency Is Finished

No Final Word On Request For New Fair Grandstand

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee finished hearings on the $8 million emergency money measure late Wednesday night but took no immediate action.

Now there are a batch of agencies holding their breath while waiting for the final word. The request for $750,000 to build a new grandstand at the state fairgrounds in Sedalia was not a love affair when presented by agriculture commissioner Dexter Davis and Fair secretary Wilbert Askew.

The same request got close scrutiny when the House heard testimony. The House committee approved it, however, and the entire bill was passed with very few changes.

The Senate Education Committee took up the measure which would include kindergarten children in the average daily enrollment.

This bill, along with two others which would increase state aid under the school foundation program and allow fast growing school districts to get aid on current attendance rather than last year's, was urged by Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton in behalf of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

All three proposals have top priority in the governor's program.

Introduce New Revamp Bill Today

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Sen. Omer H. Avery, D-Troy, introduced a congressional redistricting bill today designed to meet objections to the 1965 reapportionment law thrown out by the federal courts.

The 1965 law that was used to elect the present eight Democratic and two Republican members of the U. S. House of Representatives permitted population variations of more than 19 per cent from the norm of 431,981 under the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man-one vote order rule.

Avery's bill would make the 3rd District of St. Louis 3.8 per cent over the norm—the highest variation — and the 1st District of St. Louis 1.9 per cent under the norm—the lowest variation.

That would mean a total variation of only 5.7 per cent, or well within the 10 per cent variation believed to be what the federal courts would accept.

Two years ago the Senate passed a bill with a variance of about 6 per cent but by the time it emerged after House (Please turn to Page 12, Col. 3)

Phone Company Pays Pettis County Taxes

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company announced today a property tax payment of $178,095.55 to Pettis County for 1966.

According to Jim Mayes, Manager, this money is used for county appropriations only and is in addition to the more than $6 million the company pays in gross receipts and license tax throughout the state.

This payment makes Southwestern Bell Telephone Company the largest taxpayer in Pettis County.

During the night a sickening green color of flashes from electrical wires shorting in the ice-covered trees and around the large transformers presented a weird spectacle. Just about each time a flash occurred, it was only a matter of a minute or two before the fire alarms began ringing at the police station.

Sgt. Frank Lueck, on the radio and desk at police headquarters said there possibly were a few calls which they may have missed due to the numerous calls received almost "on top of each other." The base police radio station was off during the "blackout" but a walkie talkie radio was substituted.

Damage to trees was considered extensive as small to large limbs snapped under the heavy coating of ice which formed late Wednesday night during intermittent and heavy precipitation.

Telephones at the police station, the fire department and at the Missouri Public Service Co. power plant kept up almost a constant ring through the night and early morning hours. The first call received by the police was at 10:41 Wednesday night to 223 East Saline where a tree limb had fallen and tore down a telephone wire.

Other calls, in their order: were 11:52 p. m., tree fell against house, 804 West Fourth; 12:17 a.m., limb across street at 20th and Brown; 12:26 a.m., subject trying to break into house at 1906 East Fifth, believed it was tree limbs; 12:33, wire across street at 24th and Missouri, believed to be a CATV cable; 12:53, tree across car at 1613 South Grand; 1:12, tree (Please turn to Page 12, Col. 6)

Highlights Of Economic Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are text highlights from President Johnson's economic message:

In purely material terms, most Americans are better off than ever before.

Prosperity is everywhere evident. But prosperity is never without problems, and—in 1966—some of them were serious.

Restoring price stability is one of our major tasks. It will not be accomplished all at once, or all in 1967. That could be done—if at all—only at the cost of mass unemployment, idle machines, and intolerable economic waste. But a gradual return to stability can go hand in hand with steady economic advance.

Once again, I appeal to business and labor—in their own interest and that of the nation—for the utmost restraint and responsibility in wage and price decisions.

Despite all our efforts for an honorable peace in Vietnam, the war continues. I cannot predict when it will end. Thus our plans must assume its long duration.

But when the welcome day of peace arrives, we will need quick adjustments in our economic policies. We must be prepared for those adjustments, ready to act rapidly—both to avoid interruption of our prosperity and to take full and immediate advantage of our opportunities.

Our task for 1967 will require a flexible and delicate balance of economic policies. Above all, we must guard against any interruption of our prosperity.

Day-Long Skirmish In Valley

Marine Force Has Moderate Casualties

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Marines engaged an estimated battalion of Viet Cong — perhaps 500 men — in day-long skirmishing in the Ky Lam River Valley southwest of Da Nang today and reported killing 57.

The multicompartment Leatherneck force was officially reported to have suffered moderate casualties.

A spokesman said the Marines were on a sweep in the valley, 10 miles northeast of An Hoa. Sporadic fighting continued at dusk.

U.S. B52 bombers struck 33 miles north of Saigon in the Iron Triangle campaign and, in two other raids, pounded Communist positions on the central coast of South Vietnam.

Bad weather again curtailed air strikes at North Vietnam.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters announced that American troop strength topped the 400,000 mark last Saturday, an increase of 5,000 over the previous week.

U. S. headquarters also announced that American casualties dropped last week while South Vietnamese authorities reported a sharp increase in casualties to government forces.

The U.S. Command said 123 Americans were killed and 716 (Please Turn to Page 12 Col. 4)

Kiwanians To Stay On 'Pancake' Duty

Sedalia Kiwanians are indignant because of an inference in a news item that members will serve as cooks and waiters only from the time the club's Pancake Day closes at 7 p.m. Saturday Feb. 11 at Sacred Heart Cafeteria. They want the public to know that they will be on the job at 7 o'clock that morning and stay with it until after 7 o'clock that evening.

Misinformation in the news item was caused by a line of type not dropping.

Bill Dugan and his committee who are engineering the Pancake Day to raise funds for the organization's Youth program say they understand how the error occurred and will be satisfied with an adequate correction — which this is.

In LBJ Message

Predict Moderate Advance Of Economy Through 1967

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson directed today that plans be prepared to avoid a recession that might otherwise follow "the welcome day of peace" in Vietnam.

The possibilities of quick tax reduction and spending speed-ups will be studied by a Cabinet-level group, Johnson told Congress, as part of a "major and coordinated effort to review our readiness" for the war's end — a day still not foreseen, he emphasized.

The announcement came in his annual economic report. In it, Johnson forecast a moderate advance of the economy through 1967, if it can be steered past the hazards of inflation on the one side and recession on the other.

The outlook is for a $47-billion rise of national output, he said, to a record $787 billion — a slower climb than in 1966, but with smaller price rises, easier money, and continued almost-full employment.

Johnson renewed urgently his appeal to labor and industry for wage and price restraint, in continued voluntary support of guideline policies, to avoid "a wage-price spiral which is in the interest of neither."

Unless both labor and management absorb part of their rising costs, he said "the result will be just such a spiral — damaging to business, damaging to labor, and disastrous to the nation."

But the surprise of the message, sent to the Capitol along with a report by the President's Council of Economic Advisers, was a section titled "After Vietnam."

Johnson said he was naming Gardner Ackley, economic council chairman, to take leadership of a postwar study group made up of the heads of the appropriate federal departments.

Among other preparedness efforts, he said, Ackley's group will:

—Consider "possibilities and priorities for tax reduction."

—Determine which high-priority government programs can be expanded quickly.

—Prepare for a prompt easing of credit and expansion of money supply.

—Examine ways in which the transition to peace can be smoothed for the workers, companies and communities now engaged in supplying our defense needs, and the men released from our armed forces.

The message exuded economic optimism. "Prosperity is everywhere evident," said the President in forecasting a seventh year of unbroken growth.

The unemployment rate should stay close to the current 3.9 per cent, he predicted.

But the forecast of 1967 national output was conservative. It called for a 6.5 per cent rise compared to 8.5 per cent last year. When deflated for probable price increases, it shrank to 4 per cent.

Johnson said the stimulus of his $135-billion spending budget, tempered at midyear by the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge, provides the proper fiscal mix to keep the economy on the course of "sustainable expansion" — fast enough to prevent stalling, slow enough to avoid overheating.

The council's accompanying report foresaw a price rise of about 2.5 per cent this year, compared with the 3.3 per cent of 1966—which Johnson called intolerable.

Concerning interest rates, which zoomed to 40-year highs in 1966, choking off the supply of mortgage credit and sending the housing industry into a depression, Johnson said:

"The burden of tight money is being lifted. Interest rates are still extremely high, but they are moving down from their peaks."

The housing industry should be "moving smartly forward by the end of 1967, and ready for one of its best years in 1968," he said.

The council's report warned unions that a general adoption of cost-of-living escalators in wage contracts—a current bargaining trend—could become "a vast engine of inflation."

Part of Old Legend

Captive Ravens Cost City
42 Cents A Week For Food

By THOMAS A. REED
LONDON (AP) — Rising costs have added 42 cents a week to the household budget of the Tower of London.

The extra money is for horse-meat.

The meat is for six captive ravens.

A legend going back centuries holds that the Tower and Britain with it will fall if the ravens depart.

Nobody really believes that, but neither the crown nor the government is taking any chances.

The Tower budget is shared by a number of government departments, but as Britain's prime tourist attraction it pretty well pays for itself. The ravens and the legend behind them are part of that attraction.

One of the guards — known as Beefeaters — Henry Thomas Johns, was fresh out of the army in 1948 when he was appointed master of the ravens. They know his whistle, they know his footsteps as he approaches every morning to turn them loose from the cages and spread around a breakfast on the green lawns.

Lovers of carrion, the ravens gobble up the meat and sometimes bury some of it rather like a squirrel hides nuts. The older and more decomposed the meat gets, the better they like it.

These evil-looking birds aren't pets by any means. They'd peck the queen if they got the chance. Their croak sounds like the very doom the ancient Tower once meant for so many unfortunates who lost their heads on the chopping block.

Every three months Johns clips their wings, which if left alone would spread four feet. Unable to fly, the ravens lurch drunkenly about the 18 acres of the Tower of London, croaking and pecking anything they choose — even the mortar in the cracks of some of the oldest walls.

Actually the Tower of London is eight towers erected one after the other, from the time of William the Conqueror, into a formidable fortress.

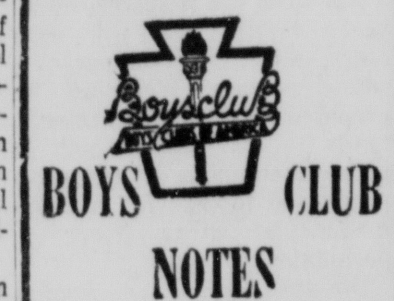

Its role as a fortress established the legend of the ravens. The original fortress, known as the White Tower, was surrounded by woods 850 years ago and ravens flocked around it to gobble up the garbage the garrison heaved out.

In the 17th century, enemies of the restoration of Charles II crept up to Tower Hill one night to seize it, the king and power. Startled ravens set up such a croaking that the sentries were fully alerted.

King Charles ordered the ravens protected and fed from public funds.

The birds come from Cornwall, Wales and Scotland and are donated as needed. They grow old, for birds, Cora, the oldest now, is 21. One of them which lived through World War II got to be 44 before croaking his last.

When a raven dies, the raven master accords it what he calls "an honorable burial" on tower ground, and a replacement is summoned.

The annual basketball tournament will be held again this year under the direction of Paul Klover who has charge of this part of the Boys Club program for the past several years. Games will be held on Saturday morning starting at 10 o'clock. The first opening on Saturdays will be Jan. 28 and the tournament will start on Feb. 11.

Teams will be selected and winners determined in various age groups. At the conclusion of the tournament All Star teams will be selected and will represent the Sedalia Boys Club in the annual games with the Boys from the Whiteman Air Force Base.

This is an annual affair and a fine educational trip for boys from the club who are successful in making the team. Other games will be arranged as the season comes to a close. The Junior team from Sedalia won the championship trophy and was awarded permanent possession.

The Iron Men class held several good meetings with Ray Murray, Mike Thompson, Kenny Rowlette and Jim Dale staging good exhibition lifts. Rowlette and Dale performed good lifts in the jerk while Murray and Thompson did excellent lifts in the clean and press. This is a very interesting class and the boys are showing the results of practice and the coaching of Gordon Strain. Several young men have expressed interest in joining the class and it is hoped that enough boys can train well enough to stage a weight lifting contest in the very near future.

Community
Teachers
In Meeting

During its first meeting of 1967 last Saturday, the Sedalia Community Teachers Association heard a talk entitled "The Teacher and Professional Relations," by Jack Cozean, director of professional relations of the Missouri State Teachers Association. Cozean is from Columbia, Missouri, and was a counselor in the public schools there for eight years prior to his present position with the MSTA.

Cozean, who was introduced by Mrs. Marguerite Hansen, vice-president and program chairman, outlined a number of important state legislative enactments which have been recently encouraged by Governor Hearnes and by the Missouri legislature. He also told the teachers about recent federal legislation which is pending in the field of education which should have a beneficial effect upon both teachers and students.

Cozean stated that the Missouri legislature has been (1) considering more money for the foundation program for the public schools, which should mean more operating money to each school district in the state (2) improvement and aid to junior colleges which should mean the benefits of higher education to more students (3) more state funds for kindergartens throughout the state (4) state aid based upon the number of students attending in each district (5) major revision of the Missouri Public School Teacher Retirement System, and (6) consideration of the requirement of 60 per cent passage of a school bond issue rather than the two-thirds rule now in effect. Cozean also said that discussion in the legislature has also been given to more funds for special education and for vocational education.

On the federal level, Cozean said that consideration is being given to provide special income tax deductions for educational expense and training for teachers, and this may include travel expense, Medicare coverage opportunity for Missouri teachers and a broadening of the copyright act for the benefit of both teachers and students is also being carefully weighed.

The meeting was opened by Jame Braden, president. Braden was followed by Mrs. Patty Wagenknecht, secretary, who read the minutes of the last meeting and some correspondence. Mrs. Margaret Belt then gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Linda Reed of the social committee gave a progress report on the teachers state report on the teachers state report at Bunker Hill, and the Association voted a donation for its annual maintenance and improvement.

Mrs. Marguerite Hansen then discussed the events which took place at the Leadership Conference in Warrensburg on Dec. 10 which was attended by 80 individuals from the Central District, five of whom were from Sedalia. The theme of the conference was "The Strength of the United Profession."

Robins Came Along
With 'Snowbirds'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — South Florida's word for drifters who come here to escape the Northern winter is "snowbirds" — and today, the snowbirds included large flocks of robins.

Thousands of red-breasts have flown into the Miami area in recent days to gobble fresh-grown berries and tug worms out of unfrozen ground.

Dr. Oscar Owre of the University of Miami's Zoology Department said the robins' arrival "usually follows a protracted cold wave in the north."

Some South Floridians enjoy the noisy show when robin flocks swoop in. Crop growers, however, are less hospitable.

The U.S. Constitution is about to acquire a new amendment, the 25th in the nation's history. Approved by Congress and submitted to the states in 1965, the so-called "presidential disability" amendment outlines steps to meet emergencies arising when a president is unable to handle the duties of his office. It also provides for selection of a successor to a vice president succeeding to the presidency. At the start of 1967, 31 states had ratified the amendment—seven short of the necessary three-fourths of all states. Since no serious opposition has developed, it is expected to have smooth sailing in legislatures, 15 of them convening in January, that have not yet acted.

Garden Club
Activities

Sedalia Garden Club No. 2, met Friday, Jan. 3, in the home of Mrs. P. C. Owen, 823 West Sixth, with Mrs. K. R. Springer and Mrs. Ted Gardner, assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Fred Lange, president, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Ted Gardner, exhibit chairman, announced the winners in the dried and fresh flower arrangements, with Mrs. P. C. Owen, first and second; and Mrs. Ted Gardner, third, and Mrs. E. M. Johnson announced Mrs. P. C. Owen first in horticulture.

The program chairman, Mrs. Johnson, led the discussion in "What Ails by House Plants, Doctor."

Dean Johnson was the speaker on "Crime Alert" telling how, why and what to do if there is reason to be suspicious of something going on that doesn't look right. By calling the police a robbery or even a murder might be prevented.

Johnson complimented Henry Keeler, the prosecuting attorney, on his cooperation and interest, in "Crime Alert" and stated the Sedalia noonday Optimist Club is sponsor of the project.

Invited 46 Mayors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has invited 46 mayors to the White House for tea today and a spokesman said "beautification will probably be the main course."

The mayors are in Washington for meetings of the executive committee of the mayors' conference.

Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said Mrs. Johnson knows a number of the mayors, has met others on her beautification travels and has corresponded with some of them on this subject.

'Grandpa'
Marks 92nd
Birthday

Saturday, Jan. 21, was a great day for N. G. Neal, known to all the people of Bothwell Hotel, where he lives, as "Grandpa" for he was celebrating his 92nd birthday with a party given in his honor by C. J. Danielson, manager of the Coffee Shop, and where the party was held Saturday afternoon.

"Grandpa" was seated at the large round table that was centered with a white birthday cake on which was one big lighted red candle, the words "Happy Birthday" in red and red roses as decoration.

In front of him were beautifully wrapped gifts and a potted chrysanthemum plant. Around the table sat waitresses who all love to wait on him, his son, Harry and his wife, from Clinton, and some of the guests of the hotel.

There was special entertainment, too. Don Sands, one of the Bothwell Hotel employees, sang a number of songs as he accompanied himself on his guitar. One of the songs, of course, was the "Happy Birthday Song."

At the side watching was Danielson and other employees. The cake was served to all those present along with ice cream.

"Why don't you open your gifts?" someone asked.

"I'm bashful," Grandpa smiled the smile he always has for everyone who speaks to him, then he added, "you know how young boys are."

Attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Danielson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neal, Mrs. Lula Creelutis, Don Sands, Forrest Ritchey, Helen LaClair, Irene Harrier, Ken Harrier, LaVerne Pigsbey, Nita Henekratt, Ella Starkey, Bernice Pearson, Helen Williams, Pat Self, Charlie Thal-

Forensic Squad
In Liberty Event

The Smith-Cotton High School Novice Forensic Squad traveled to Liberty last weekend and placed three individuals in final rounds of individual events at Liberty High School's Novice Tournament.

Those individuals placing were Cindy Jennings, junior, who placed second in original oratory, and Lloyd Knox, senior, who took third in extemporaneous speaking. Also going into finals but not placing was Randy Burton, who was entered in humorous interpretation.

The two debate teams both won two of their three rounds of preliminary debate but were eliminated from quarter-finals due to speaker points. They were the team of Harry Lambirth and Terry Koehn, and the team of Richard Lyles and Dennis Bruns.

According to Mr. Dan B. Curtis, Director of Forensics at Smith-Cotton, competition was exceptionally strong, particularly with the presence of several large Kansas schools, and bearing this in mind, the squad did quite well.

Negro Vote Is Sought By The GOP

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Republicans are determined to pick up at least 30 per cent of the Negro vote in the 1968 presidential campaign by waging what one party official called the "most dynamic, aggressive program ever put on by the GOP."

Clarence L. Townes, a special assistant to Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss, mapped his plan to seek the Negro vote as the Republican National Committee closed a two-day meeting Tuesday.

"We had been rather ineffective in the past six years in attracting the Negro voter," Townes, a Negro, said in an interview. "I think it was because of an inability to articulate the Republican position (on civil rights)."

Townes' program calls for more contact between the Negro community and party officials and candidates through seminars and meetings with key Negro leaders.

He noted that the GOP captured 19 per cent of the Negro vote in last year's off-year election.

Bliss said that, considering the 6 per cent Negro vote the GOP received in 1964, the jump to 19 per cent was "phenomenal. I would have been surprised if we had received 12 per cent."

Townes said the Negro vote drive last year was a "guerrilla-type effort" that aided such Republican candidates as Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee and Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

The main pitch of his program will be to "remind the Negro voter that the Republican party recognizes the equality of all," he said.

Townes said most of the "meaningful open-housing laws in the nation have been passed in states where there are Republican governors and, in most cases, Republican-controlled legislatures."

Mao's Work Creating Confusion

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Mao Tse-tung's "great proletarian cultural revolution," spearheaded by hysterical teenagers, has stormed through China's cities, creating wild and violent confusion. It has reached into the trade unions and the factories. And now it is reaching out to China's 500 million peasants.

Although most China-watchers agree that the danger of a shooting civil war has diminished, China remains in dire peril.

The economy of the cities has suffered severe wrenches from the riotous confusion, and now there is a prospect that the farms are threatened.

China's spring sowing must begin around April. If there is an interruption in that, the country is in trouble. It already has a problem feeding 750 million people and food is rationed. Despite official reports to the contrary from Peking, experts have reason to believe the last harvests were poor. A new crop failure would be a major calamity.

But the "great proletarian cultural revolution" goes on.

This is more than a power struggle of conflicting personalities, although that is part of it. It is evidently a clash of fundamental conceptions of China's economic, social and political future. Recent announcements of what has been going on in China's cities reveal the depth of this clash.

Defense Minister Lin Piao, the man who seems to have the advantage, at least temporarily, has turned all the terrifying power of his "cultural revolution" apparatus at the power bases of his opponents, who seem to be led by President Liu Shao-chi and the party secretary-general, Teng Hsiao-ping.

Much of the opposition's power has rested with the urban laboring class in the party-dominated All China Federation of Trade Unions. Lin now has succeeded in abolishing that organization — as he had eliminated another opposition power base before by abolishing the eight-million-strong Young Communist League.

The Young Communist League was replaced by the teen-age Red Guards — the Hung Wei Ping. The trade unions federation now is to be replaced by the "rebel revolutionaries" — Tsao Fan.

Lin's forces, claiming the blessing of "Mao Tse-tung's thinking," moved in on the factories with disastrous results. Production was stopped in many. Enemies were accused of fomenting strikes. The wheels of industry are being slowed, even stopped in some cases, by endless rallies and forced mass discussions of Mao's thought. Each side is accusing the other of sabotaging production.

Lin's forces joined the battle for the laboring class with a declaration of war on "economism," a Communist sin which suggests trying to buy the loyalty of workers with promises of better wages, welfare and living standards. Lin's forces say this is "bribery of the workers," and that it "corrupts the masses."

The time of decision may be close—although it will likely be a long time before Red China recovers from the shock of this titanic struggle.

To informed watchers, the critical question is not which personality wins out, but which line wins: Whether China will continue belligerently isolated from her neighbors, and whether she can recover from all the shocks of the past year and a half.

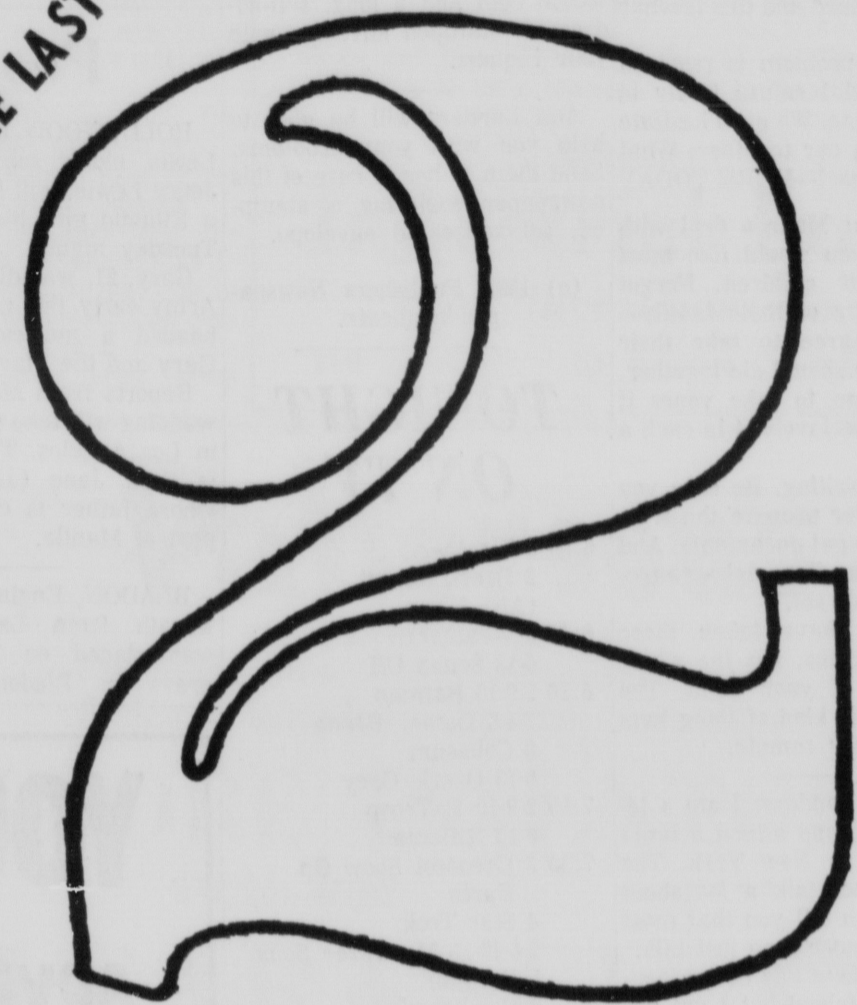

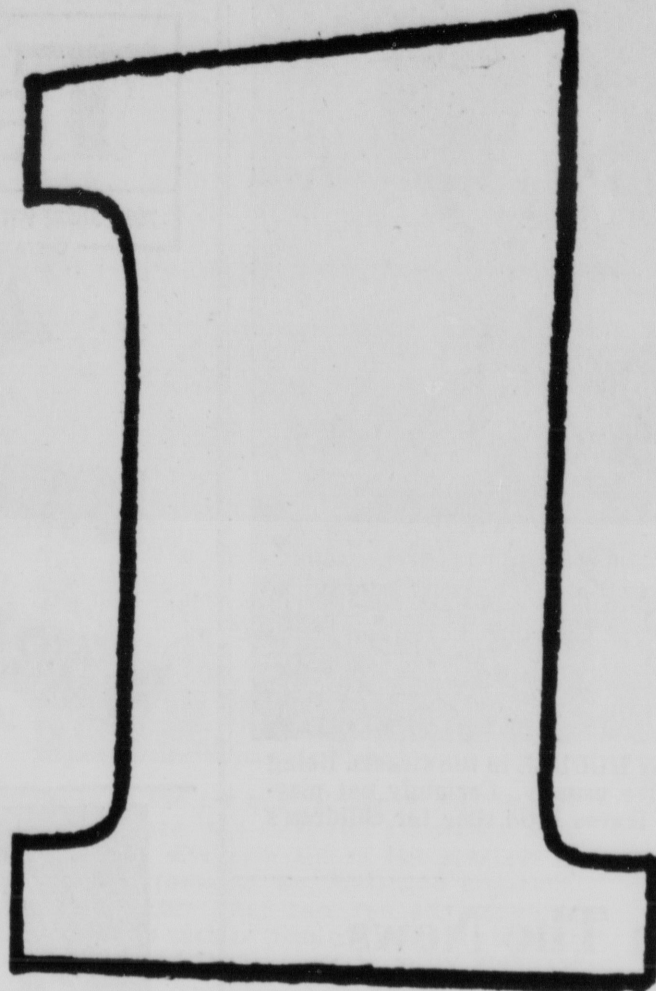

Next: The consequences.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Our problem is not unique. Others must have solved it. We'd like to know how.

If my wife and I should die in an accident together, what would become of our children? We have only one blood relative. She would consider it her duty to raise our children but my wife and I don't feel she is capable of rearing them properly. Also we would want our children to remain together if they should be orphaned.

We have no close friends with families small enough so that they could raise our youngsters in addition to their own brood. Money has been set aside to see our children through college, but love and affection is what they would need and this is what worries us.

Until this problem is resolved my wife and I refuse to fly in the same plane. We even hesitate to get into a car together. What do you suggest?—HERE TODAY

Dear Here: Make a deal with the couple you would like most to rear your children. Forget about the size of their family—or yours. Agree to take their brood if they should die together, and ask them to take yours if you should be involved in such a tragedy.

Get it in writing. Be sure you have a lawyer prepare the wills and all the legal documents. And make sure the financial arrangements are all set.

After you have taken these wise precautions, put the whole matter out of your mind. The chance of this kind of thing happening is very remote.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old girl, and attend a large high school in New York. The kids at school talk a lot about sex and I can tell you that most of them do more than just talk.

My best friend has been sleeping with her boyfriend but I am not writing to criticize her. What I need is some answers. We have had lots of arguments about right and wrong and I have been losing.

My friend says she is in love and that sex is the natural way to express complete devotion. She also says if he refused to go along, her boyfriend would drop her and find someone who is more cooperative. When I asked her what she would do if she got pregnant she laughed and said, "The pill never fails."

Please tell me how to win these arguments. —OUT-TALK-ED.

Dear Out: Why bother? Your friend has already lost the most important argument and now she is trying to justify herself.

I have had letters from other teen-aged girls who also laughed and said "the pill never fails." They stopped laughing when the doctor said, "You are pregnant."

Assuming that pregnancy can be avoided, it's still foolish for high school kids to play house. Why? Because our society has decreed that sex belongs in marriage. Sex on the sneak can be ugly, frightening and disappointing. It can create guilt, resentment and a cockeyed notion of what life and love is all about. If it's love, it can wait. If it isn't, who needs it?

Confidential to The Hold-Out: Wise or foolish? I say you are wise. It's a funny thing, but when people refuse to accept anything but the best they very often get it.

Alcohol is not shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze and You—For Teen-Agers Only, By Ann Landers. Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Busboy Is At Home At Top College

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Donald Lee Bert, 18, a boot-black and busboy, came to Harvard last fall worried about fitting in with the polished products of Groton, Phillips-Exeter and the other Ivy League prep schools.

"But once I learned to swing a little," he said, "and let my beard grow and my loafers get scuffed and my Levis a bit frayed, I found I looked and acted just like everyone else."

"The thing about Harvard men," he said, "is that they don't want to have anything to do with anyone who is a phony. I just be myself and I get along fine. I don't think anybody cares that I shine shoes."

Bert, a Negro, is the son of a construction worker and a housemaid. He won a four-year, $1,500-a-year National Achievement scholarship on graduating from White Plains, N.Y., high school last year.

"I could have used the scholarship for any college," Bert said in an interview, "and my parents said they would leave it up to me entirely. So I applied to several schools."

"But when I got accepted at Harvard my mother almost went crazy. So I could pretty well tell which direction she was leaning. And all my friends urged me to go to Harvard, too."

Bert, one of six children and the first to go to college began as a caddy at the Ridgeway Country Club in White Plains six years ago and worked his way into a job as locker room bootblack.

When the country club members, all of whom are white, learned that Bert had won a scholarship, they started a fund that will give him more than $2,000 in spending money over the four years.

"I'm the youngest of four boys in my family," he said, "and each of us in turn has been a shoeshine boy in the locker room. Now I guess the job will go to another family."

But not right away. Bert plans to keep his job at least until he has finished college.

"Shining shoes is not real, real interesting work," he said, "but it pays well."

He said he earned $2,200 last spring and summer as boot-black and busboy.

Bert's inclination is to study medicine and become a surgeon.

"I'm under a little pressure to do well here because of the scholarship and because I'm grateful to the people at the country club," Bert said.

"But I try not to think about it. And anyway, the work here is so tremendously interesting. This is a great university, just like they say."

Ask Hoover To Testify On Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee again has asked FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to testify on the proposed U.S.-Soviet consular treaty. But there is no indication whether he will accept.

The invitation came in a letter Wednesday to Hoover's boss, Acting Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark. Clark has promised to answer it promptly.

Hoover, 72, already has turned down one invitation to testify in person. He wrote Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., committee chairman, that it is the attorney general's job, rather than the FBI director's, to "pass on matters of legislation."

Those close to Hoover, who has outlasted 15 attorney generals in his job, say he probably will not commit himself on the merits of the treaty even if he does testify. Hoover, they said, always has refrained from giving his views on legislation.

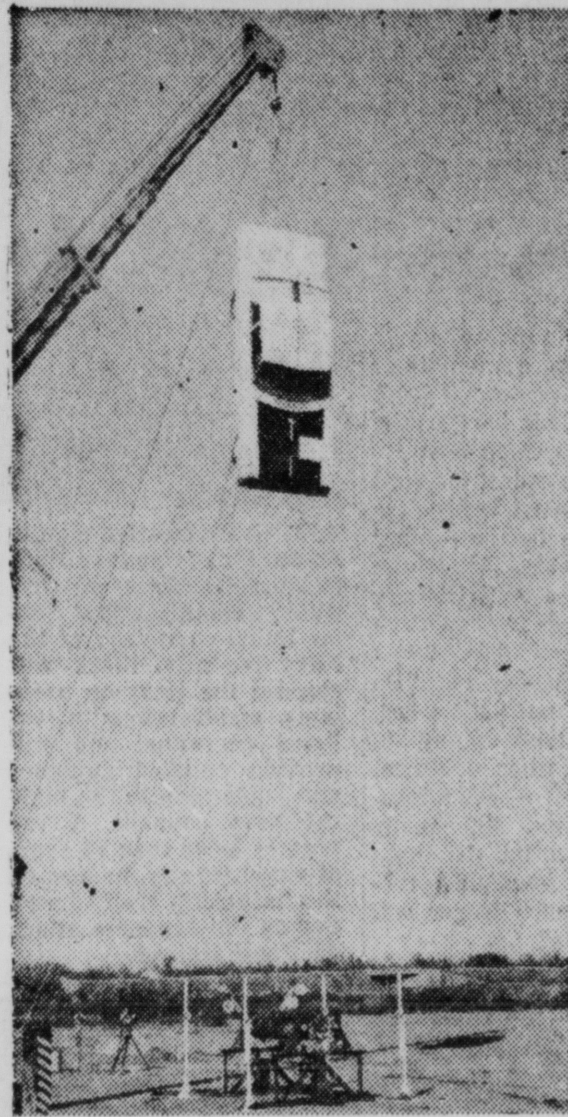

The treaty was signed in June 1964 but never has been acted upon by the full Senate. Fulbright's committee approved it in 1965 and now is holding another round of hearings on it.

The treaty does not list specific cities where consulates would be established, but the Soviets are believed interested in setting up offices in New York, Chicago and possibly on the West Coast. The United States reportedly wants one in Leningrad.

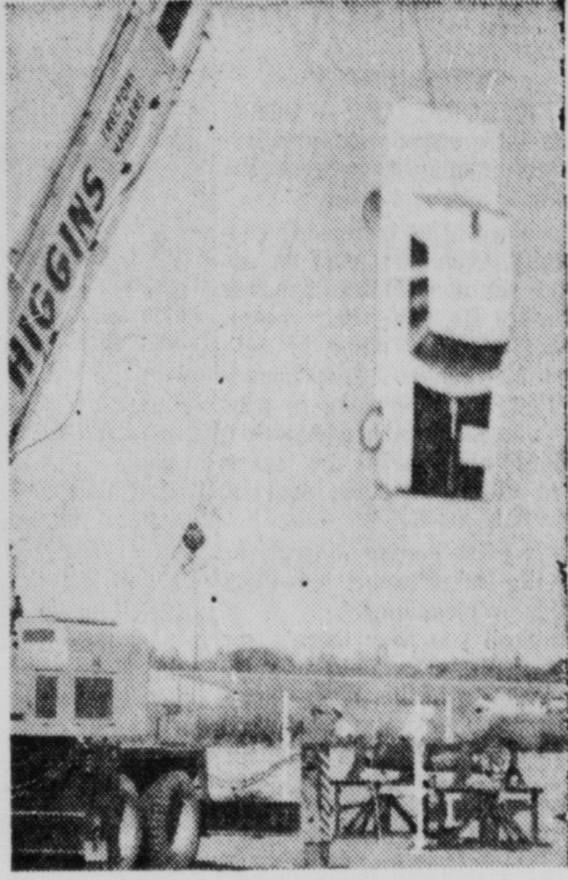

In some aspects, a consulate amounts to a branch office of an embassy, looking after personal, commercial and cultural interests.

Reportedly, much of the Senate opposition to the treaty is based on Hoover's supposed opposition to it. But Hoover never has come out definitely against it — or for it, for that matter.

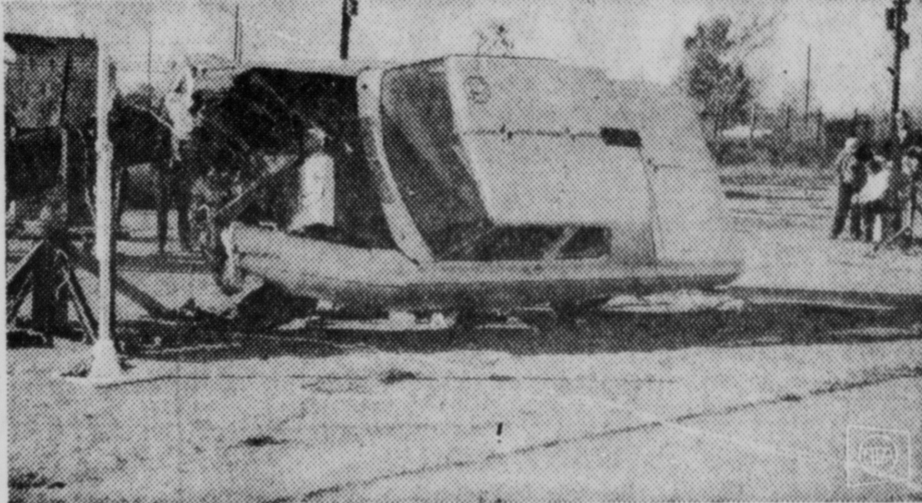

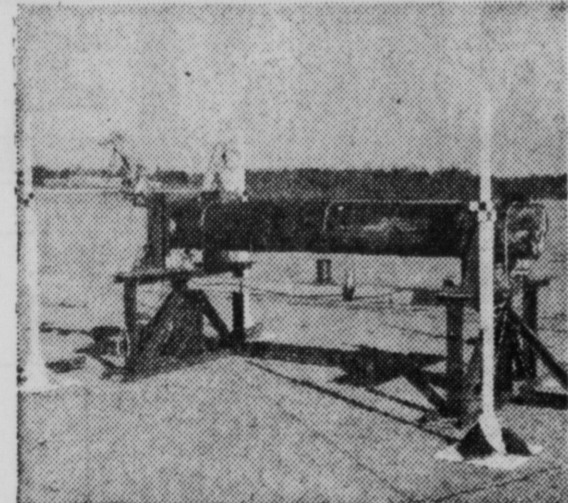

Plunge for Safety's Sake

The late model car pointed straight down and plunged 30 feet like a wingless dive bomber to wrap its nose around a section of telephone pole. There were no injuries, however. The staged crash was part of a research project at Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory at Buffalo, N.Y. aimed at minimizing the effects of single-car accidents on the nation's highways. The research is being conducted by Cornell Laboratory under a $147,786 contract with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Data obtained from instruments on the car and telephone pole in several car-drop experiments will be used in a computer simulation of a wide variety of single-car accidents. Eventual aim of the program is to reduce the incidence of injury-producing accidents and economic loss from property damage that occurs when cars run off highways. Despite the apparent drama of a drop such as pictured here, the impact was at about 30 m.p.h., a lower speed than occurs in many highway accidents.

Grim Look At Social Security Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — To a young man just starting out in life and expecting modest success, President Johnson's new proposals mean a lifetime Social Security tax bill of something like $25,000 — with a lot of ifs attached.

For his money, he could look forward to retirement benefits at 65 more than half again as high as at present — $279 monthly plus $140 for his wife. Also, Medicare after retirement and increased benefits for his wife and children in case of his early death.

To compute what such a man would pay requires making several assumptions. The first is that Congress would enact the Johnson proposals and then make no further changes for the next 43 years — not a very realistic one. Congress several times has changed the benefit and tax structures in the 30 years since Social Security began.

Even if it did not do so again, the prospective changes built into present law plus the Johnson proposals would amount to eight variations during our hero's working life.

Assuming all this, assuming he starts out this year at 21 with a salary of $5,000 and is raised $1,000 a year until his pay catches up with the maximum Social Security coverage, here are his unofficially calculated prospects:

This year he pays $195 for basic Social Security and $25 for Medicare, $220 total.

For the next few years, his tax bill rises rather steeply. He is getting more pay — and has not yet hit the ceiling for the payroll tax — and, besides, there is a rate increase in 1969. In that year he pays $315 Social Security and $35 Medicare — $350 total. By 1971 the tap totals $445.

In 1974, the tax base goes to $10,800 and our hero is getting more pay than this. His Social Security bill is $540 and his Medicare contribution $59.40, a total of $599.40.

The Social Security component is now fixed for the rest of his working life, but there are three more fractional increases programmed in the Medicare rate, so that this factor reaches $86.40 in 1987, bringing the total combined bill for the rest of our man's working life to $626.40 a year.

By the time he retires, he will have paid $22,335 in Social Security tax plus $2,239.30 for Medicare, a total of $25,574.30.

Heber Hunt Helping Hand 4-H Club met Jan. 17, at Heber U. Hunt School at which time a program on "Posture" was given by Dr. J. W. Bryden and Dr. C. C. Alexander. They also showed x-rays of injuries to the spine that had been caused by accidents.

Demonstrations on advanced electricity were given. There were 12 members present at the meeting.

The next meeting will be held at the school on Feb. 21. It was voted that the money which would be spent on valentines for club members be donated to the Children's Therapy Center.

Vanity Leads To Arrest Of Young Man

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Vanished to the arrest of Harold Percell, 25.

A customer at a variety store complained recently that the photo machine was out of order.

The store manager found the machine jammed with a strip of pictures taken by a previous customer. The man in the photos was pointing what appeared to be a pistol at the camera. The manager called police.

Eugene police arrested Percell two hours later and charged him with carrying a concealed weapon.

Many Items Selling At Less Cost

By SALLY RYAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Housewives who were out picketing in the cold last fall over high food prices may find things a little warmer inside the supermarket this winter.

Many food prices are lower than a year ago. And there is much more pork and beef. Wholesale food prices dropped again this week to the lowest since mid-November 1965.

Subzero temperatures last week cut shipments of livestock to market in many parts of the Midwest. This week shipments were up again and prices down.

Key Element In Drink Is Isolated

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Researchers at the University of Pittsburgh say they have isolated a key ingredient of kava kava, a South Seas drink that reportedly produces a peaceful, happy feeling — with no hang-over.

The ingredient, called F-1, was described Tuesday as "extremely potent" by Pitt's Dr. Joseph P. Buckley.

He explained that F-1, unlike other substances derived from kava kava, is water soluble — an important point, because South Sea islanders dissolve the kava kava root in water and drink it. In other words, it might be F-1 that gives kava kava its kick.

F-1 was tried out on some mean laboratory rats, Dr. Buckley said, and the results were dramatic.

The rats were made vicious by brain lesions, said Dr. Buckley, adding, "The rats were so wild we couldn't hold them without heavy gloves."

But F-1 changed them remarkably, he said. No longer were they biting, rage-filled fighters. They became quiet and docile.

What's more, he said, the rats, under the influence of F-1, could walk along a rotating rod without losing their balance.

Electrical impulses from the brains of the rats showed the F-1 had acted on a much more primitive brain center than does alcohol, Buckley said.

Alcohol affects brain areas concerned with reason, balance and coordination, said Buckley, but F-1 acted on areas associated with such things as rage and hate. "Maybe this explains why the South Sea islanders who take kava kava lose their anger and feel peaceful and happy," remarked Buckley.

Contact Mine Is Found By Navy Ships

NHA BE, South Vietnam (AP)—The U.S. Navy today displayed a New Year's Eve present from the Viet Cong—the first contact mine found in the main shipping channel to Saigon. The Navy said the Russians made it.

The 1,000-pounder, covered with barnacles, was one of a number of enemy mines the Navy has fished out of the Long Tau River and put on exhibit on a barge at this installation 10 miles south of Saigon.

Contact mines are exploded when a ship hits one of several horns projecting from the mine's casing. All others found in the Long Tau have been types detonated by remote control or crude devices attached to vessels and set off with a timing device, the Navy said.

"We don't know where the contact mine was assembled," said Capt. Paul Gray of St. John, Kan., assistant chief of naval operations in Vietnam. "It could have been assembled any place. Judging from the barnacles and other signs, we think it may have been kept hidden in a river in the Rung Sat special zone, then towed into the Long Tau."

The Rung Sat special zone is an area of rivers, canals, salt marshes and swamps south of Saigon from which the Viet Cong have launched many attacks on shipping heading up river toward the capital.

Several intensive military operations have been staged in the region recently, but progress has been slow.

Gray said a minesweeping boat cut the big mine's anchor line Dec. 31 and the mine bobbed to the surface.

It was towed to the shore, and

Lt. Frank Talarico, Red Bank, N.J., set about disarming it.

"I spent about two hours in the river working on it," said Talarico, a 21-year Navy veteran and a demolitions expert. "I took it mighty easy, you know. It was quite a New Year's Eve."

Gray said the mine would be sent to the United States for study.

"It's a constant fight to keep the channel open," said Gray, a Navy aviator who was shot down five times in the Korean War.

Persons Of Opposite Sex Not So Opposite-Looking

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals today is trying to distinguish between the sexes.

In a world of increasing conformity, even persons of the opposite sex don't look so opposite anymore. In fact, their resemblance to each other in both looks and behavior is so uncanny that it is confusing to both psychiatrists and headwaiters.

More and more the sexes dress alike, talk alike, and cut their hair alike.

It is even getting difficult to tell the sexes apart by their names or nicknames.

Suppose you hear there's going to be a party, and the guest list includes Leslie, Kim, Chris, Tony, Pat and Jerry. Does that mean there will be six girls, six boys, or any combination of both?

The fact is that it is almost as big a problem today to differentiate between the sexes as it is to distinguish, on sight, between a Republican and a Democrat.

There are, however, still ways it can be done. And here is a tentative guide for the perplexed:

If it scowls when you say "yes, sir" to it, it is probably a her. If it punches you in the nose when you say "yes, ma'am" to it, it is indubitably a him.

Does it like to scratch itself in public? Put it down as male. Does it always seem to be plucking at its clothing to pick off invisible pieces of lint? Put it down as female.

While bawling you out, does it turn its eyes upward to the ceiling? It's a woman. While criticizing you, does it look embarrassedly out the window? It's a man.

If it has a button off its topcoat, it is a husband. If it starts asking questions about why the button is missing, it is a wife.

Does it like to brag about how hard it worked in its youth dur-

Wind's Direction Affects Instrument

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The State Health Department's pollution-measuring device is useless when the wind blows from the southeast.

A department official said the wind caused smoke and soot from the department's smoke stack to settle on the roof-top instrument, causing it to give an abnormally high pollution reading.

ing the Coolidge administration? It is a middle-aged man. Does it look coy and pretend it can't remember that far back? It is a middle-aged woman.

Does it like to collect for good causes in its neighborhood so that it can see how the other homes are furnished? That's the wife. Does it say, "I already gave at the office"? That's the husband.

Does it continuously ask, "Do you really love me?" It's a her. If it can never think up any answer to that question—except "Yeah, why not?"—it's a him.

Ces, there are still many ways in which to tell the sexes apart. The only remaining problem is: How much longer will it be worthwhile?

TOP NAVY enlisted man is Master Chief Gunner's Mate Delbert D. Black of Orr, Okla., named the first Senior Enlisted Adviser of the Navy recently. Black will counsel the Navy on problems associated with enlisted personnel and will provide enlisted guidance and leadership in the highest Navy councils. A veteran of more than 25 years of naval service, he was on the battleship Maryland during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Use Is Best Thing For Troubled Eyes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The best thing for your eyes is to use them, not save them, an expert says.

And, contrary to some belief, reading in poor light doesn't harm the eyes.

Dr. Albert E. Sloan, who said this Tuesday, is an eye surgeon at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and chairman of the School Vision Problems Committee of the National Association for the Prevention of Blindness.

Sloan told a news conference that the belief still exists that reading in bed makes eyes weak.

The truth is that use improves the ability of the eye to use its potential fullest, he said.

Sloan was in Los Angeles as speaker at a week-long conference on eye, ear, nose and throat disorders.

"THANK YOU!"
By "Uncle Dudley"

Those people who will be reading this portion of our advertising will never qualify for any marks in the "higher education" echelon! THAT we can tell you! On the other hand, as time passes, YOU might find some little bit of information, a recipe, a hint or two, the location of a good fishing hole—just some little something that would make the time worthwhile!

At least it will give us, here at "Uncle Dudley's," an opportunity to TALK WITH YOU! WE LIKE PEOPLE! All kinds of people—even customers! Those are the ones we want to make special mention of this issue.

THANK YOU are two small, easy to say words. They are all the words we know that will express our feelings about the WARM WELCOME you have given "Uncle Dudley's" Warehouse these past two weeks. Hundreds of you have come from all over the area to see "WHAT IS GOING ON?" here at Uncle Dudley's. Many of you have told us that they were simply amazed at the real, money saving BARGAINS in personal and home needs they found. As time moves along you will find MANY MORE! "Uncle Dudley's" have only started to bring in the BARGAINS! Just wait and see.

It has been a real treat to meet so many of you, personally. It will take time, but we'll get to meet all of you. It'll be a regular "gab fest" when you come shopping! That's the way "Uncle" wants it!

"Uncle Dudley" wants to take a moment to answer a question he was asked by a customer last week end. The question was this, "Are these prices just OPENING LEADERS and will they be changed in a short time?" The answer is a great big NO, to both parts of that question! "Uncle Dudley" NEVER raises a price unless the base cost goes up so much he's forced to make a change. When that happens, your "Uncle Dudley" might stop selling some item! You can rest assured that you won't find a lot of price changes at "Uncle Dudley's." Whenever there is a price increase, "Uncle Dudley" will be ready and willing to prove to YOU that there was a reason.

Here's a good example. The men's insulated boots "Uncle Dudley" is now advertising for $8.88 is far too close to cost for a normal operation. We will sell every pair at this price, IF they are gone soon. However, the price on these boots will definitely GO UP to "Uncle Dudley's" normal price in a short time. Right now "Uncle Dudley" has too many of them on hands—that's the reason YOU are getting such a LOW PRICE! Better get yours TODAY!

Doctors Are Expecting New Success

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — The "Singing Doctors" of Springfield are looking forward to another good year of spoofing the medical profession and building up a unique scholarship fund for young doctors-to-be.

The physician performers — four surgeons, an internist and a pathologist — got their start quite by accident half a dozen years ago. Now they perform some 60 zany songs such as "The Message is Massage," "Black and Blue Cross," and "At Your Cervix." After two appearances on national television shows they came out with: "Now That I'm a TV Star (I charge Much Larger Fees.)"

The medical minstrels recently turned out a fourth album of numbers and have added comedy routines for their one-hour "Medical Hit Parade" stage show.

They already have performances scheduled this year in Memphis, Oklahoma City, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Dallas. On Jan. 31 they will join Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and members of the Missouri General Assembly in Jefferson City at the dedication of the new headquarters for the Missouri State Medical Society.

The physicians, headed by Dr. Jim T. Brown, a surgeon who serves as master of ceremonies, devote as much as 30 days a year to their project—rehearsing, recording and performing. All proceeds go to the Scholarship Foundation of the Greene County Medical Society, believed to be the only such student fund operated by any county medical organization in the nation.

Dr. Brown said the most recent month for which album sales are available indicate the fund added $11,000. Recently 12 new scholarship loans were extended to young medical students, making the total of the Singing Doctors awards to more than $70,000.

The group got its start when Dr. Brown was named to provide the entertainment for the city's annual medical banquet. No funds were available to hire entertainers.

Out of desperation, he gathered "five more extroverts like myself," wrote several parodies with local doctors' names.

"We mounted the stage that night, feeling like human sacrifices," Dr. Brown said.

But the debut was a hit and the singing docs were on their way.

Dr. Brown had had some connection with show business before he became a doctor. While in medical school he spent his summer vacations as the writer-producer of a radio show originating in Nashville.

He and Dr. Charles E. Lockhart, a surgeon who has the only trained voice in the often off-beat and off-key group, are the solo performers. The others, known as the "Four Suppositories," are Drs. Don F. Gose, Harold H. Lurie, Fred C. Collier and F. T. H'Doubler Jr.

"In the overall," Dr. Brown says, "if we prove nothing else, it's that doctors do have a sense of humor after all."

Comments On High Court's Activity

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A church leader said Tuesday the U. S. Supreme Court should not become "a national school board which would regulate the activities of the public schools."

C. Emanuel Carlson, director of the Baptist Joint Commission on Public Affairs, also said that proposals to amend the Constitution to allow conducted prayers in public schools are misguided.

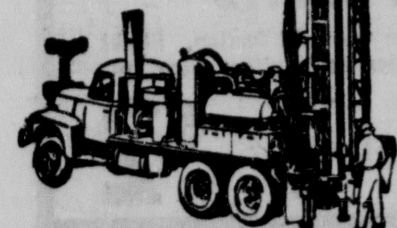

Carlson addressed the 16th annual Church and Community Institute of the University of Missouri.

Now that the high court has said what should not be done in public schools, it must not be made to say what should be done, Carlson said.

Say Strict Requirements For Investing Are Needed

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A wise investor once said that if he made a list of 10 investment requirements and found a stock was deficient in just one, then he would decide against buying that stock.

Some analysts now say, in effect, that this maxim should be put to work. It has merits. It puts the investor on the side of the law of averages. It slows inclination to hasty decisions.

Caution has again been abandoned by some traders. Despite great public enthusiasm to reinvest in the stock market, some analysts are advising clients to ponder along before committing themselves.

The allure and illusions of the market again are charming amateur speculators to join a game they cannot even name. Prices are rising and volume is soaring and excitement blurs judgment.

Analysts say there are some solid reasons for the January advance. Primarily they note a tendency for interest rates to fall. Tight money, they reason, helped ruin last year's market.

Nevertheless, as always, many small investors now hurriedly gamble with no clear idea of their aims. Nor do they have a plan of action.

This ignorance probably accounts for that cynical, mothy and not totally accurate theory some professionals claim to follow, that the small investor usually forecasts turns in the market by doing what he shouldn't do.

Small investor activity picked up before the 1962 plunge, meaning the small investor was a poor forecaster. One year ago, just before the 1966 decline began, it rose again. And again, of course, the amateur was wrong.

This small investor activity is recorded by counting odd-lot transactions; that is, transactions of fewer than 100 shares. The professionals buy in units of 100.

The odd-lot performance so far during the sharp January rise has been mixed. Until Jan. 10, buying was heavy, as it sometimes is early in the year's first month. A reversal then set in

Congratulate Optimists On 'Crime Alert'

Gary Cooper, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the Optimist Noonday Club meeting at State Fair Restaurant, Tuesday noon. He congratulated the club on sponsoring the Crime Alert program and stated that such a program and the Community Betterment program proves that the town is moving forward, for many people are taking an interest in these programs.

The Chamber of Commerce is the front door to the city, Cooper pointed out. People seem to think that it has only one phase, that is getting industry, and when a big industry doesn't come to town then they feel the Chamber isn't doing anything. There are ten other divisions of the Chamber on which they work and many, many services provided day in and day out that people never dream of unless they need them. Cooper told of his first day as manager when the office manager and those in the industrial development, were all out of the office for a short time leaving him alone. A man came in with a very urgent need. Wondering what trouble the man was in and what kind of help he would be called upon to give, he offered his assistance. The man had a letter that he had to get in the mail, and a stamp without glue. It was a relief to Cooper to find that all he had to do was supply the glue. Those, he said, are the little accommodations and services that is part of their work, and such things are appreciated. It is the big things they expect that causes the grief, principally industry, especially when small towns get an industry. You don't know how long they have been working on them perhaps several years.

Cooper said that now Sedalia has an industrial development director, Bill Hall, who has the job of working to bring industry but that he had been assisting Hall and they recently changed their attitude in trying to interest industry. They have found that a city cannot be sold with a telephone call or a thousand letters, it must be sold through personal contact. That was the reason he and Hall went to New York recently, they called on three prospects and two of them are sending their representatives to Sedalia to check the town for possible location here.

But, Cooper explained, it takes more than an industrial director and a Chamber of Commerce manager to sell a town to representatives. It takes the man where they buy gas, where they eat, every person they come in contact in any way. There are many factors in bringing an industry to a town and the state industrial development men, who make a study of it, point out that it takes from three to five years of working on an industry to get it, and every other town is working just as hard.

We get impatient, said Cooper, get disappointed, get down in the dumps, but that is the way things are.

Cooper asked the cooperation of everyone to develop a positive attitude. The Crime Alert program, he told the group, is creating an attitude that would attract industry. The offer of courses for graduate or undergraduate college credits is another. In April there will be a free course provided by the Chamber for the small business. There are many other things being planned for the coming year, he concluded, and we are trying to create the right image.

Cooper was introduced by Louis Taylor.

R. L. Settles, president, presided over the meeting, and invocation was by the Rev. Charles Hendrickson.

Ray Simons, a City Councilman and a member of the Optimist Club, talked briefly on the Crime Alert program stating that he was proud of the way this program had taken hold in the city. He went on to say that he was getting calls all the time from organizations, schools, churches, for programs, and even groups of women not members of clubs were getting together in homes for a program where they might learn more about it.

Letters, he said, had been sent to organizations, factories, schools, churches, and already 120 replies have been received which involve nearly 5,000 people. Results have started, too, with tips to the police from people of the community.

He told, also, of the sign board on the building at Fifth and Ohio that has the Crime Alert with the number to call.

Settles announced that on March 14, the Sedalia Noonday Optimist Club and the Sedalia Sunrise Optimist Club would

Green Ridge PTA Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the new year of the Green Ridge PTA was held on Jan. 11 with Mrs. Royal Ragar, president, presiding.

A member of Boy Scout Troop 152 led the Pledge of Allegiance. The devotional, entitled "Lessons in Living" was presented by the Rev. James Williams, who quoted from a newspaper column, "Twelve Rules for Rearing Children."

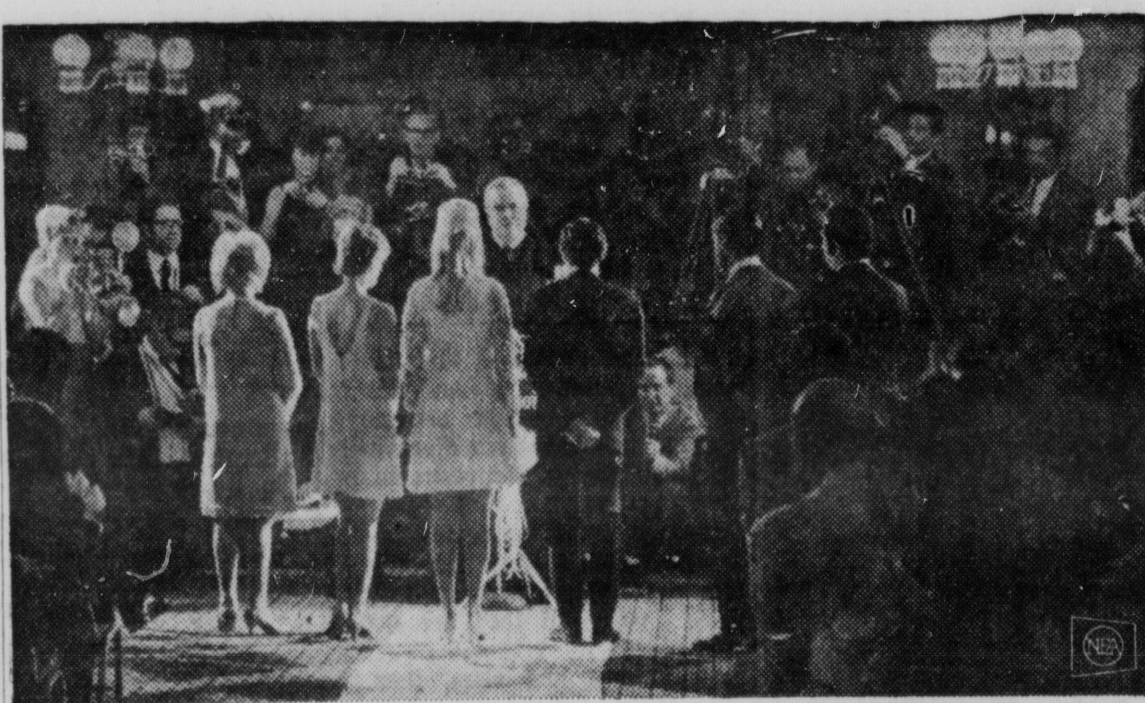

The minutes were read by Mrs. Zeb Thomas, secretary, and approved and Mrs. Emmett Ruffin, treasurer, gave the treasurer's report.

The PTA membership has reached 151 members. Anyone still interested in joining may do so now.

The president appointed a committee for the purpose of nominating officers for 1967-68. They were Mrs. Harlan Close, Mrs. LeRoy Ryan, and Mrs. Paul R. Brownfield.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Margaret Langford, who is with the State Health and Welfare Department. She spoke of the need for various health

Refreshments were served by the room mothers of grades five and six.

Too Much For Dino

Dean Martin, Director In Dispute Over Film Takes

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The assistant director opened the door cautiously and said, "Dean, could you come up and look at the scene through the movieola and then do a run-through?"

Dean Martin viewed the suggestion with scorn in his sleepy eyes. He was seated in the basement of an abandoned department store that was being used as a location for his latest film, "Band of Gold." Director Fielder Cook was asking Martin to look at previous film on a movie viewer so he could match the action in the scene that was to be shot that afternoon.

"He's asking me to climb those stairs just to look at a movieola?" Martin said indignantly. "Forget it. You tell him when he's ready to shoot the scene I'll be there and I'll know my lines."

The assistant retreated. This was the latest episode on a battle of nerves that has been the talk of Hollywood. The trade had buzzed with reports Martin and Cook were not seeing eye to eye. In fact, the star had not appeared for work one day and the company had to be dismissed.

"Yeah, I had to lay down the law," Martin admitted with his customary casualness. "This guy with the two last names, he was shooting eight or nine takes of every scene. He had a great big three-million-dollar toy and he was having fun with it."

"Trouble is, he was playing with my money, 'cause the more money that's spent, the less profit I get. But more than that, it ain't my style. How can you tell a joke eight-nine times? It's bound to get stale."

"Finally I told him, 'What the hell you doing with all these takes?' He said he might find something he didn't expect. I told him, 'Well, you find it in the first or second take, because that's all you're going to get.'"

Martin declared the impasse was settled when Columbia production boss Mike Frankovich instructed the director: "Shoot it his (Martin's) way."

Another assistant director appeared and asked if Martin would now come upstairs for filming. No mention was made of viewing the previous scene.

"Okay," the actor conceded, and he went to the main floor, which was filled with extras. His rehearsal was letter perfect.

As the final preparations were being made for the shot, director Cook minimized their differences.

"If one-tenth of what was printed in the trade papers had really happened," he told a visitor, "it would have been akin to the 1917 revolution."

"In truth it has been like a wonderful eight-week honeymoon, followed by one week of discord. It happens in any marriage. I have great respect for Dean; he is the best high-comedian in the business."

The set was ready. The camera recorded the scene twice. "Print!" said Cook, indicating he was satisfied.

"That's the way ole Dino works," said Martin, retiring to his haven in the basement.

Sign Is Economic Attraction

WESTON, Ill. (AP) — The sign serves as an economic lightning rod, waiting for the bolt of good fortune to strike. It reads: "Business property for sale. Five acres."

The notice was nailed to a tree at the edge of a field a mile east of Weston, the hamlet chosen by the Atomic Energy Commission as the site for a $375-million atom smelter.

The real estate company reported it had had one telephone call since the AEC announcement Dec. 16. The caller was a woman. She didn't buy.

It's the same with houses. "Nobody's approached us yet," said Mrs. James Mioli, a homeowner in Weston, "but there are many rumors floating around."

The village president, Arthur Theriault, a stocky, buoyant fellow, reported he has seen no scouts for industry. But he has received letters from 20 states. They came from people who would like to work for the AEC or for the village. They didn't know, apparently, that the village has no stores, offices, town hall or go-go joints and may be swept away—literally—by the winds of change.

There is a possibility, Theriault said, that the installation may extend to the railroad tracks, just east of town. In that case, he added, the village would have to move to the other side of the tracks. Maybe, he speculated, the community's 100 boxy houses could make the short trip.

That would bring Weston closer to West Chicago, a town of 8,000 which now would be a mile from downtown Weston, if there were a downtown Weston.

West Chicago Mayor John M. Downs, a onetime football player, reported trailer court interests have been looking about.

"Owners of periphery land ultimately will get more money than people in the smelter site area," Downs said.

THE AMERICAN INFLUENCE is easily seen in Saigon streets. Trouble is, the American influence, well-meaning as it may be, sometimes is turned in the wrong direction by Vietnamese children.

More Loud Protests On Towing Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Protests have mounted against the mid-Manhattan auto towaway program, with the loudest complaints coming from the handicapped and doctors. But city aides, traffic cops and bus and taxi drivers were pleased over the unclogged streets.

More than 160 drivers with physical handicaps took advantage Tuesday of Mayor John V. Lindsay's offer of police taxi service to and from work, but criticism flowed freely.

Attorney Daniel Fields, a polio victim who has held a special parking card for 14 years, said, "It's inhuman and it's not accomplishing anything."

But, said taxi driver Bernard Robins, "I used to wince when I got a cross-town job. Now I don't mind it at all."

Philip Guba, 43, a polio victim who drives to work from Garden City on Long Island, commented that "a car is more important to us than a car to a diplomat."

Arthur Palmer Jr., city transportation administrator, said a plan might be worked out whereby handicapped drivers would be allowed to park in certain towaway areas. He said it would take considerable research, however, before deciding on a site.

Diplomats and foreign consuls were among the first of the previously privileged to feel the ban on parking in restricted areas bounded by 34th and 66th Streets and the East and Hudson rivers. However, those with diplomatic or foreign consular license plates need not pay the tow charges, which can amount to $40 to $50.

Newsweek with special plates were getting the towaway treatment, too.

A WNEW radio mobile unit, covering a protest meeting of the New York County Medical Society, was towed away.

Dr. John A. Lawler, president of the society, with 7,000 member doctors in Manhattan, said the ban against physicians parking while on emergency runs could bring "chaos to the practice of medicine and is a threat to the health of the city."

At his news conference Tuesday, Mayor Lindsay claimed the no-parking campaign was bearing fruit. "Already traffic is beginning to move," he said.

Lindsay said there have been indications that many wives of doctors used the special parking privilege to do their shopping.

Medical Practices See Change

By ROB WOOD
DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The practice of medicine in the United States has changed drastically in recent years. In almost every hamlet or city a great need expressed by community leaders is "for more doctors."

Physicians say it is almost impossible to keep stride with the gains made in medical research. Doctors are slipping behind because of a heavy patient load and fewer hours in which to study the hundreds of journals that carry the latest discoveries in medicine.

In an effort to solve this problem, the Duke University Medical Center established one of the nation's first departments of community health sciences. Under the direction of Dr. Harvey Estes, it is attempting to persuade physicians to take a new approach to community medical needs.

The department will work with physicians to ease the work load and to provide time for refresher courses; assist medical schools in preparing doctors; develop technicians and paramedics to take some of the routine work now done by physicians; and will seek ways to provide instant medical attention for all.

Estes, in an interview, said there were too few doctors to meet the medical needs in cities and no doctors at all in many rural communities. Fifteen years ago, he said, there were 110 physicians per 100,000 population. Today the ratio has dipped to 97 to 100,000.

The first steps taken by the new Department of Community Health Science include a medical-school program aimed at training a new kind of family physician and a drive to bring doctors into a group-type system.

As envisioned by Dr. Estes, the medical practice of the future will include groups of at least 10 doctors working in the same building, pooling their talents.

For example, Estes said, the unit will include two family physicians, two internists, a gynecologist, an obstetrician, a pediatrician, a psychiatrist, and possibly two surgeons.

Estes wants the doctors to provide a walk-in, 24-hour-a-day clinic "where an individual can receive immediate treatment." The patient's first visit would be with the family physician. The doctor either would treat the illness or injury or refer the individual to one of the specialists in the group.

By working as a unit, the physicians could handle more patients, provide more complete service, have more time to keep abreast of advances, and eventually develop a close patient-doctor relationship.

Changes In Services Suspended By MPSC

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Public Service Commission announced today it has suspended changes in bus service proposed by Greyhound Lines pending a public hearing Feb. 17.

Greyhound wants to change certain schedules and eliminate others between Kansas City and St. Louis. Protests have been received from Kemper Military Academy and the State Training School for Boys at Booneville and others.

The proposal would discontinue a bus which leaves St. Louis at 4:30 p. m. and arrives at Kansas City at 10:05 p. m. It would also eliminate a bus leaving Kansas City at 9 a. m. and arriving at St. Louis at 3:20 p. m. and change the times of others.

Food Broiler Facts

If you're looking for a "budget trimmer," a broiler-fryer is the answer. Frequent store specials reflect the fact large supplies of these young tendermeaty birds are coming to market.

Economy, convenience, flavor and nutrition are the "big four" you get in every purchase of today's modern broiler. This modern chicken is meatier, more tender, flavorful and juicier than its ancestors. Better quality—yet 30 percent lower in price than twenty years ago.

Fryer production, once a by-product of the egg industry, is today an important and specialized food industry. Last year—over 2 1/2 billion birds were produced. And, per capita consumption rose to an all time high—over 35 pounds per person.

When selecting poultry, look for the grade mark—it is your assurance of quality. The official grade mark—in the form of a shield—tells the grade (U.S.D.A. Grade A, B, or C), and the class which suggests the cooking method, for example broiler, fryer—roaster, etc.

U.S. Grade A poultry is the first quality available and is of course, excellent served in any manner. But remember — all graded poultry is a nutritious, wholesome food.

The inspection mark—a circle—may be used only on a ready-to-cook bird that has been examined by a Government inspector and passed as wholesome food. It denotes wholesomeness only—not grade and may be used without a grade mark.

Inspection for wholesomeness is required by law for all poultry and poultry products moving in interstate or foreign commerce. A ready-to-cook bird may carry the U.S.D.A. grade mark ONLY IF it also carries the inspection for wholesomeness mark.

Broiler-fryers, like all poultry, are easily perishable. Flavor deteriorates if it is held under poor storage conditions or for too long a time. For best results use soon after purchase. To hold a day or two, remove the store wrappings and cardboard tray and rewrap loosely to allow air circulation. Place fresh poultry in the coldest section of your refrigerator. Of all common meats, chicken is the lowest in fat and calorie content. And the protein content of chicken is higher than any other common meat, excellent only by turkey.

Chicken also contains iron, phosphorus, riboflavin and niacin. The dark meat is richer in iron and the B vitamins than white meat. Chicken livers are rich in iron and vitamin A.

And how do you prefer to serve these tasty birds? As might be expected, fried chicken is the favorite way. But a U.S.D.A. survey of homemakers revealed that barbecuing both indoors and out—is fast gaining in popularity. Baking and roasting are rated even higher than barbecuing.

Other methods of preparation rated important but less popular included soups, salads, sandwiches, croquettes, casseroles, tetrazzini, chop suey, chow main or a la king style.

Any way you choose to serve chicken is sure to please. So, plan to take advantage of the especially plentiful broiler-fryer chicken.

Where Will the Family Living Dollar Go?

What can families expect to spend in 1967? What is the outlook for cost of food, clothing, shelter? The extras? What choices will families have in their economic planning? It looks like the 1967 trend is upward.

"Economists at the U.S.D.A. say the cost of food will continue to edge upward in 1967 but will not match the price increases of 1966.

Retail food prices in 1966 averaged about 5 cents on the dollar above 1965 due primarily to strong demand.

Reduced supplies of beef will more than likely mean higher beef prices, particularly after mid year.

Dairy prices probably will increase as will the price of cereal and bakery products. Fats and oils may cost more. Potatoes by contrast may remain about the same.

On the bright side for consumers however, the forecast is for generous supplies (and lower prices) of pork, poultry, eggs and citrus fruits.

Strong demand for foods is forecast due to increases in food exports, expanding military and civilian needs.

Records show the cost of one week's food in 1966 as follows:

A young couple—$20.
With one child—$25.
With children — $30-35-38 depending on age and number.

Home Furnishings, Equipment and Appliances

The demand for home furnishings and equipment will be high through 1967, because of high incomes which are expected to go higher, low level of unemployment due to military calls and more new families formed by the post World War II babies now of marriage age.

Most items will cost about 3 to 4% more because of increased labor charges and higher prices for raw material such as copper, steel and wood.

Draperies, slipcovers and rugs so far show no indication of price rises, but may be affected by labor cost.

Clothing and Textiles

There will be large supplies of apparel in the year ahead, however, a boost in both shoe and clothing cost will be due to increase in labor and production costs.

Housing

Providing adequate housing for an increased population, replacing casualty and natural economic loss and providing for eliminating or rehabilitating over 3 million dilapidated units, (in view of required additional financial assistance) is a complicated challenge of this industry in 1967.

In general, continued economic growth along with rising prices are expected to increase the total value of goods and services in the nation by 7% in 1967.

Opposition Radios Are Closed Down

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The Nicaraguan government has closed three opposition radio stations and a newspaper after the pre-election battle which left 34 persons dead and 69 wounded.

President Lorenzo Guerrero said the capital was "tranquil" again and that the 20-hour uprising would probably not cause postponement of the presidential elections Feb. 4. The government said the opposition radio stations and the newspaper La Prensa were shut down because they were inciting violence.

Political passions boiled up Sunday night after a rally at which Fernando Aguero, the presidential candidate of the opposition Conservative party, appealed for "free, just and honest elections with the fullest guarantees."

The Conservatives and the ruling Somoza machine blamed each other for the disorders, which ended Monday night when the rebels surrendered their arms and freed 117 foreign hostages, including 89 North Americans.

Aguero is running against Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr., son of the long-time dictator and brother of ex-President Luis Somoza. The Somoza family has controlled Nicaraguan politics for 35 years and Anastasio is considered certain to win.

Guerrero, who cannot succeed himself under Nicaraguan law, charged that the violence was an attempt by the opposition to seize control of the government with Communist aid. A Conservative party spokesman said the Communist charge is "an old strategy to discredit the opposition."

changes the difference was so great a special three-judge federal court would not accept it and the U. S. Supreme Court agreed two weeks ago with the lower court.

The principal objection was that metropolitan votes in the St. Louis area were outweighed by rural votes in outstate Missouri.

Avery, who is chairman of the Senate Reapportionment Committee, attempted to meet that criticism by making the three St. Louis-St. Louis County districts more nearly equal in population to the outstate districts.

He did that by shifting only three wards in the three St. Louis area districts, transferring part of northern St. Louis County into the 9th District of northeastern Missouri—as it is now—and putting a small southern portion into the 10th District of southeastern Missouri.

The 9th district would stretch from northern St. Louis County to the Iowa line. The 10th would run from southern St. Louis County to the Arkansas line along the eastern border of the state.

Avery said he did not know what the legislature would do with the bill but he thought it was the best that could be designed without splitting outstate counties.

The bill is expected to raise some political problems but fewer than first expected. It still raises the question of whether Missouri's first Negro congressman might be elected from the first district of northern St. Louis to succeed the veteran Democratic Rep. Frank M. Karsten.

In the Kansas City area, Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Kansas City, would still have the 5th District of Kansas City.

But the 4th District represented by Rep. William J. Randall, Independence Democrat, would have to share more surrounding counties.

Together these two districts would include Jackson, Ray, Carroll, Chariton, Lafayette, Saline, Howard, Cass, Johnson, Bates, Henry, Benton, Vernon, St. Clair and Hickory counties.

The 6th District, represented now by Rep. W. R. Hull, D-Weston, would include 24 counties of northwestern Missouri extending from Platte and Clay counties on the southwest to Macon, Adair and Scotland counties on the northeast.

The 7th district of southwestern Missouri is represented now by Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Springfield, one of Missouri's two Republican congressmen. The other is Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Webster Groves, of the 2nd District.

The 7th would include 18 counties and still be Republican. It would run from Barton to Dallas counties on the north to McDonald to Howell counties on the south.

The 8th District is represented now by Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Houston, who would pick up some Republican counties in the proposed 28 county district.

It would extend from Pettis and Cooper counties on the northwest along the Missouri River eastward to Gasconade County in the northeast down to Butler County in the southeast and to Wright and Laclede counties on the southwest.

State Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, had indicated his intentions of running against Ichord in the present 8th district.

But under Avery's bill Blackwell would be thrown into the 10th district of southeastern Missouri, running from the Arkansas line in the Bootheel to southern St. Louis County covering 11-plus counties.

Tobacco Growers To Vote On Control Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Burley tobacco growers will vote by mail Feb. 27-March 3 on an Agriculture Department proposal that they approve a new control plan for their crop.

The plan, called an acreage-poundage program, would limit plantings by acreage allotments, but sales through a poundage marketing quota. The present plan, which has long been in use, limits plantings only, but permits the sale of all tobacco grown on a farm allotment.

The new plan was rejected by burley growers in a referendum a year ago. It has been employed on the last two crops of flue-cured tobacco and is designed to encourage the production of a greatly improved quality crop.

In the Pettis County Circuit Court, Wednesday, in the suit of Paul F. McNamee and Donovan Joseph McNamee against Robert L. Ehrhardt, administrator for the estate of William E. Pike, returned a verdict on instructions of Judge Frank W. Hayes, in favor of the defendant and against the plaintiffs. The suit asked $70,000 for the death of Mrs. Bernice McNamee, wife of Paul and mother of Donovan.

The case was tried on Jan. 22, 1966, in Pettis County Circuit Court after it had been brought to Pettis County from Saline County on a change of venue. This trial resulted in a hung jury resulting in the retrial.

At the opening of the trial Wednesday, the McNamées introduced their evidence in the suit after which the attorney for the defendant, Robert Wesner, presented a motion to the court to forthwith instruct the jury that under the law and evidence its verdict must be in favor of the defendant and against the plaintiff. The motion was sustained by Judge Hayes, who directed the jury to return the following verdict: "We, the jury, find the issues in favor of the defendant Robert L. Ehrhardt, administrator of the estate of William E. Pike, deceased, and against Donovan Joseph McNamee and Paul F. McNamee."

The jury returned the verdict signed by Philip McLaughlin, foreman. The jury was composed of McLaughlin, Jack Rader, George Meyer, Millard Edmundson, Abe Rosenthal, Mrs. Joe Menefee, K. C. Link, Logan Siegel, Willard Hall, Junior Nichols, Clyde Kilton and Mrs. B. Hoard.

The suit was brought as a result of a fatal accident on U. S. Highway 40, six miles east of Marshall Junction on Oct. 5, 1962, in which Mrs. McNamee was killed as were Pike and his two companions, Timothy I. Mayer and Gary Ernest Hooks.

Donovan, the son, was driving the 1961 Plymouth in which his mother was fatally injured and Pike was driving a Falcon.

Donovan McNamee is from Columbus, Ohio, and his mother and father from St. Louis.

The father had sought $25,000 damages and the son $45,000 and the suits were combined for the trial. Attorneys for the McNamées were Morris Shenker and A. Lamkin James.

A petition for divorce was filed in Circuit Court Wednesday by June I. Reardon against Robert Gene Reardon. The attorney for the plaintiff is William F. Brown.

A car which belonged to the late Bernard Harpstrite, 425 East Harvey, was broken into Saturday night and $28 in silver dollars and 80 silver certificate dollar bills were stolen, plus a green box. Mr. Harpstrite died Saturday afternoon.

Brazilian To Meet With LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect Arthur Da Costa e Silva of Brazil meets with President Johnson today and may find out how much U. S. aid he can expect for his announced plan to "humanize" Brazilian government programs.

Costa e Silva goes to the White House for a luncheon in his honor after two hours of conferences with Undersecretary of State Lincoln Gordon, coordinator of American aid under the Alliance for Progress, and with William S. Gaud, administrator of the U. S. Agency for International Development.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk extended Costa e Silva "the warmest welcome" in behalf of Johnson when the Brazilian leader arrived at nearby Andrews Air Force Base Wednesday night for a one-week state visit.

Rusk accompanied Costa e Silva to Blair House, the mansion near the White House for visiting dignitaries, and the two held initial talks in the library.

Costa e Silva is to be inaugurated March 15.

The White House said 140 guests were invited to the luncheon, with the Marine Band and military color guard saluting the guests of honor.

The Johnsons had special gifts for their guests: a desk

We Can Do What They Can

Considerable jubilation exists in Nevada, Missouri, because that community has been chosen as the site for a $11 million industrial plant of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company, St. Paul.

We spent last week-end in this community of 12,000 population, met some residents, traveled around a bit and came away sensing that prospects for a new factory for Nevada have heightened its economic morale.

Coincidentally with this visit and return home there came to our delayed attention a copy of the January issue of the Missouri Public Service Company's News which highlighted in text and pictures a review of the 3M selection of Nevada.

Don J. Douglas, vice-president of the Reflective Products Division of the firm, said in one article that the company will ask the city to approve a 20 million dollar revenue bond issue to finance the initial plant and immediate expansions planned on the 143-acre site, part located on U.S. Highway 71 inside the city limits, the remainder in Vernon county.

Additional comments in the article read:

"Mr. Douglas said his company had selected Nevada and Missouri as the site because of its central location; a good easily trainable labor supply and Missouri's and Nevada's business climate . . . that 3M officials had looked at several other Missouri sites."

Of particular interest are these quotes:

"Mr. Douglas added that other cities could take a leaf from Nevada's book on presentation of its industrial advantages and business climate."

Amplifying this the article stated:

Germans Sour to Attempted Censorship

Kerr's Firing Forecast

On Nov. 15, one week after Ronald Reagan was elected Governor of California, Drew Pearson reported: "Watch for President Clark Kerr, one of the outstanding educators of the nation, to resign or be fired as President of the University of California." On Jan. 20, President Kerr was fired.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Reaction to Look magazine's move to censor the Manchester installments of "The Death of a President" as published in Stern magazine got a very sour reaction in West Germany.

Many German magazines and newspapers were established immediately after the war with financial help from the United States and with the admonition that they must be absolutely free of censorship.

The German public, therefore, had a hard time understanding why the nation which preaches freedom of the press brought suit in Hamburg to stop publication of the full story of a tragedy regarding which the public should be entitled to know all the facts.

It was not easy for Germans to understand that the suit was brought by Look magazine in deference to Mrs. Kennedy and not because Look or the U. S. Government believed in censorship.

While a West German court was upholding the American principle of a free press, the U. S. Supreme Court recently stamped its approval on the type of Nazi personal espionage that once flourished under Hitler but now is suppressed in West Germany.

Only Chief Justice Warren, seeing the danger of Nazi techniques, wrote a strong dissent.

Nazi Spy Techniques

The case was that of Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa. As early as April 13, 1954, this column exposed Republican leaders, led by then Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, for abruptly stopping a congressional investigation of Jimmy Hoffa and Teamster operations in Michigan. One of these operations, revealed in a subsequent column, was the Flint Buick strike, after the settlement

Looking Backward

FORTY YEARS AGO

Sergeant Alvin C. York, greatest hero of the World War, arrived in Sedalia to be a guest of Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, and also to address students at Smith-Cotton High school in the afternoon and adults in the evening.

— 1927 —

Ninety-four years ago, January 26, 1833, Pettis county was organized by severances effected from the counties of Saline and Cooper. At that time the entire population was less than 600. After the county was organized the seat of justice was temporarily kept at St. Helena, which bore the name of Pin Oak until 1837. St. Helena remained the county seat until 1837 when Georgetown succeeded to the honor and continued so until 1865 when Sedalia took it away. The county was named for the Honorable Spencer Pettis, third representative in Congress from Missouri. In a personal quarrel with Major Thomas Biddle, a resulting duel led to the death of both men in 1831.

"Obviously Nevada passed with flying colors and their presentation and warm welcome of 3M officials should serve as a classic example for all communities looking for new industrial plants."

Richard C. Green, President of Missouri Public Service Co., in the magazine's editorial message, said in part:

"The announcement by the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., of the selection of Nevada as a site for the new 3M manufacturing plant was another major event for us this year. 3M is asking Nevada to vote $20 million in revenue bonds for the new facility. Much of the credit for the choice of Nevada is due to the Missouri Public Service Co. cooperation and assistance given the 3M officials in their location search. We were the original contact by 3M and all of the cities in MPS territory meeting 3M's specifications were scrutinized with Company officials in the search party. 3M will be a fine new customer in Nevada."

Competition for industrial sites is intense. Sedalians must never forget this as they persist in contests to bring industry here. This requires giving unremitting attention to updating presentations of industrial advantages; demonstrating meaningful warm welcome to visitors; encouraging expansion of a good, easily trainable labor supply; and maintaining a magnetic business climate.

The virtues Nevada has for attracting industry can surely be matched by an alert Sedalia. In a collective sense, this means the cooperation of every citizen, not just a limited flying squadron of civic work horses.

The World Today

Economic Picture of Self-Confidence

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most people won't read President Johnson's budget message — it's such a swamp of figures — but from it emerges the picture of an America bulging with prosperity and self-confidence.

The self-confidence part of it shows up earliest in Johnson's promise: "In Vietnam, as throughout the world, we seek peace but will provide all the resources needed to combat aggression." That's a big order.

But when Johnson mentions aggression he undoubtedly means Communist aggression. And this promise to stop Communist aggression anywhere is consistent with American policy in Vietnam.

Johnson and others in his administration from time to time have given what sounded like noble reasons for American involvement in Vietnam, such as preserving democracy there although the people never really had it.

But running through all the Johnson explanations there has also been another reason — American self-interest — that the forcible spread of communism is a menace to this country's national security.

Nevertheless, the commitment made in Johnson's budget message could keep this country involved in foreign wars — where there is Communist aggression — for countless years to come.

Yet, while Johnson in one sentence is promising such a sweeping and ambitious foreign policy, in the very next sentence he is urging caution about what is to be done at home: "In our urgent domestic programs we will continue to press ahead, at a controlled and reasonable pace."

Thus, while his total budget request to Congress is a record-breaking $135 billion to take care of all the government's present programs and commitments, he goes easy on the idea of new ones.

He recognizes that the country is still trying to digest some of the programs he set in motion the past couple of years.

But the sense of bursting prosperity glimmers through the message and at the very moment he urges caution he provides a catalogue of progress and increasing affluence.

It includes: Gross national product up nearly 5.4 per cent; unemployment below 4 per cent; more than 3 million new jobs found in 1966, income and corporate income in the same year up about 8 per cent.

His budget makes clear the end is not in sight. Johnson is thinking in terms of limitless prosperity although he knows from past history that the economy could get out of control and plunge.

One example of Johnson's confidence in the future, despite the burden of the Vietnamese war, is his request for a 6 per cent surcharge on corporate and most individual income taxes to help pay for the war.

But he is asking Congress not to make it a law until July 1 and whether Congress will impose the tax at all is still uncertain. The attitude seems to be: Wait a while to see how things are going.

For instance, in the past year and a half there has been inflation, with consumer prices going up 4½ per cent although, as Johnson says, efforts were made to hold them down. They may climb some more, making the dollar worth less.

Underlying the rosy glow, Johnson acknowledged this is still far from the perfect society for his message is packed with requests for funds for social welfare programs of one kind or another, including the antipoverty kind.

Johnson's budget message, like his State of the Union message on Jan. 10, was subdued when compared with some of his more colorful rhetoric of the past, which would indicate a change in his approach to public opinion.

One of the interesting features of this year's American team is that while the three pairs all play some version of Standard American, they play three widely different versions. Edgar Kaplan and Norman Kay use a weak no-trump opening when not vulnerable, which explains how Edgar found himself as declarer at a four spade contract in their all-important semi-final match against Rapée and Lazard.

Lazard made the good opening lead of the three of clubs against this contract and it was up to Edgar to show his mettle by making the hand.

The play is interesting as an example of expert technique. The seven, nine and king of clubs went on the first trick. Edgar drew three rounds of trumps to finish in his own hand, then led the six of clubs. After Lazard played the deuce dummy's eight lost to the East's jack.

Rapée returned a diamond Kaplan took his ace and king and led a third club to dummy's ace. Then he led dummy's last club. Rapée was allowed to hold the trick with his queen as Edgar discarded his nine of diamonds.

Rapée was down to hearts and had to lead to dummy's king to give Edgar the contract trick.

Two declarers played and made three no-trump from the North seat when the queen of clubs was opened. One other South made four spades when West was kind enough to open a heart for him. The other four spade declarers failed to discover the throw-in play and went down one.

Edgar's fine play only represented a three IMP gain but the swing was 10 International Match Points since he would have lost seven if he had gone down.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Good Lighting, Proper Position Protect Eyes

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When it is an effort to bring what you are looking at into proper focus the result is eyestrain. Paradoxically the most severe symptoms of eyestrain often accompany a very slight visual error. This is because, if the error is too great, you give up trying to make out the details but, when the error is small, your eyes try to adjust and you are not aware of the effort involved.

Eyestrain may also be caused by looking too long at murals or other art objects that are placed high above your head or by sitting too close to a stage or movie screen that requires you to look up. It does not result from prolonged viewing of a television screen at eye level or slightly lower.

A third cause of eyestrain is improper lighting — light that is too bright or not bright enough. You should not, for example, read with direct sunlight falling on the page. When artificial light is used it should be diffused coming from several sources so that both glare and dark shadows are eliminated.

Prolonged eyestrain may cause a headache over or between your eyes, a smarting of your lids, blurring of near vision and a feeling of fatigue. The treatment is based on such measures as having even minor errors of refraction corrected by carefully fitted glasses, positioning your body so that any prolonged looking you must do will require a minimum of upward or sideways movement of your eyeballs and reading by a soft light. Place a mirror on the page you are reading and if a lighted bulb is seen in the mirror you are getting too much glare.

Q — What are the first symptoms of cirrhosis of the liver and what is the final outcome?

A — Although once thought to be caused only by heavy drinking, we now know that any chronic disease of the liver (of which alcoholism is only one) may cause cirrhosis. Because cirrhosis is a gradual replacement of functioning liver cells by scar tissue it is hard to say just when it begins. The symptoms, if any, are loss of appetite, easy fatigability and loss of weight, but none of these symptoms point specifically to cirrhosis.

If untreated the disease is fatal, but early treatment with a nourishing diet, vitamin supplements and abstinence from alcohol will halt its progress.

Letter To The Editor

The following is a Letter to the Editor of the Columbia (Mo.) Tribune and is reproduced here because it relates to Sedalia's television station, KMOS-TV:

A. M. GERMOND (241 Graham, Columbia) I noticed a reader complaining about Columbia television. It is true the third network — ABC — is not available in Columbia on a full-time basis although it could be. An ironic situation exists which has kept a third station out of this market although the channel for this station has been allocated since 1952. Actually there is a third station but its service is a matter of debate. The station is KMOS-TV in Sedalia which has operated as a satellite of KRCG-TV of Jefferson City for many years. Originally operated as a satellite of KMBC-TV in Kansas City, KMOS-TV now duplicates the KRCG-TV programs with an occasional local origination. It operates with relatively low power so coverage is confined mainly to the Sedalia area. Sedalia residents can still pick up channel 13 just as they receive channel 8. They also get good reception of the three Kansas City stations. Columbia on the other hand is too far from either Kansas City or St. Louis for reliable reception from those areas.

It wouldn't be too hard to convert channel 6 at Sedalia from a low power satellite to a maximum power station whose coverage would easily include Columbia. Even if it remained at Sedalia more than 50 miles away, a tall tower would allow good reception to all of central Missouri. However the station could also be moved to a point somewhat closer to Columbia. If the transmitter was placed at California or Tipton, channel 6 could be received here with an indoor antenna.

A Moberly radio station made a proposal for a third channel in this area but the FCC rejected the petition. Jerrell Shepard, who owns KWIX and KRES-FM in Moberly, asked to have channel 12 assigned to Hannibal. If this had gone through, the station would have put its transmitter near Monroe City, a point which would have allowed good reception in Columbia. The station would have been an ABC affiliate.

The present use of channel 6 in Sedalia is a wasteful practice. It is surprising the FCC hasn't taken steps to discourage this. Certainly the interest and capital for a third station in central Missouri is available. The market could certainly support a third station.

It is even possible channel 6 could be reassigned to Columbia, giving this city its second TV station. The high growth rate of Columbia will put this city in the position in Central Missouri similar to the position Springfield occupies in southwest Missouri. It would be interesting to see channel 6 activated into a bonafide TV station. If established in Columbia, development would be especially interesting. In any case, ABC-TV service would finally be available to Central Missourians.

Withdrawals, Substitutes Make Naming Players Hard

NEW YORK (AP) — They won't be able to tell the players without a scorecard at the Millrose Games tonight. Or with one either.

Last-minute withdrawals, substitutions and changes have been rampant for the traditional meet, which opens New York's indoor track season.

Ron Clarke, the Australian long-distance star, canceled out of the two-mile and took his flu attack home with him. John Rambo, coholder of the indoor high jump record, scratched because of a leg injury. And Ted Nelson, who won the 880 here last year, pulled out, saying merely that he isn't in top condition.

These and other late changes left Millrose director Fred Schmertz scrambling to fill events for the meet, in which Bob Seagren's attempt to extend his own pole vault record and the duel between Charlie Greene and Bill Gaines in the 60-yard dash figure to be the highlights.

Other late withdrawals were Sebsibe Mamo of Ethiopia and Colby College (pulled tendon) and John Camien of the NYAC (groin infection) from the mile; Dave Crook of Long Beach, Calif., 49er Track Club (virus) from the 600; and Dave Ellis who pulled out of the 2-mile because he can't take time away from his job as a tax assessor in Toronto.

In addition, the St. John's and Army two-mile relay teams deserted the field, claiming illness to two runners on each squad.

Last-minute replacements were Otis Burrell, of the 49er TC, to face John Thomas in the high jump; Martin Liquori, a Newark, N.J., high-school student in the mile; Sam Bair of Kent State, switching from the two-mile to the mile and Australian Tony Benson, moving up from the mile to the two-mile.

Canadians Dave Bailey and Ergas Leps and NCAA champion Dave Patrick of Villanova are strong contenders in the mile and George Young, the national three-mile champ, and Pat Traynor, steeplechase titleholder, should give Benson a good run for it in the two-mile.

Willie Davenport of Southern University, Richmond Flowers Jr. of the University of Tennessee, and Ralph Boston, world broadjump champ, provide a strong field in the 60-yard high hurdles.

Bill Crothers of Toronto, Ricardo Urbina of Georgetown, Franz-Josef Kemper of West Germany, and NCAA champ Peter Scott of Nebraska will battle in the 880, while Martin McGrady the indoor recordholder from Central, Ohio State, leads the 600-yard entrants.

UCLA Is Other

Toledo Has One Of Two Unbeaten Teams

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's been more than a decade since the University of Toledo Rockets have been a power in college basketball. Today they can be classified as equal to the top-ranked UCLA Bruins in at least one respect. The Rockets and the Bruins are the only undefeated major teams in the country.

The unranked Rockets made it 12 in a row with a 94-70 road victory over Kent State Wednesday night. This compares to UCLA's 14 straight for the season.

Steve Mix, a 6-foot-6 sophomore, threw in 23 points to lead the Rockets to their easy Mid-American Conference triumph over the Golden Flashes.

"I don't know what the future holds, but right now I'm very happy," said Bobby Nichols, whose goal is to win Toledo's first Mid-American crown in 12 years in his second season as head coach for the Rockets.

Dayton whipped Canisius 83-59, Rutgers downed Fordham 82-66, Southern Methodist beat Oklahoma City 92-82, West Virginia defeated Detroit 97-84, Temple crushed Lafayette 78-49.

Illinois Still Tops Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Illinois, which reached the top of small college basketball poll three weeks ago, apparently has no intention of stepping down from the No. 1 spot.

The Salukis, 11-2, increased their margin over Kentucky Wesleyan in this week's Associated Press poll after defeating the Panthers 52-51 at Owensboro, Ky., and Wichita of the tough Missouri Valley Conference, 77-55.

The victories brought SIU 13 first place votes and 139 points and the top position for the third straight week after finishing third in the poll the last two seasons behind Evansville in 1965 and Cheney State last year.

Kentucky Wesleyan, 10-1, which led through the early season, drew only one top vote and 124 points, still far ahead of third-ranked Cheney, 14-0, which had three first place votes and 89 points.

Seventeen votes were cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters with points awarded on a basis of 10 for first place, nine for second, etc.

Tennessee State took the biggest stride, moving from sixth to fourth after victories over Nebraska Wesleyan, Union and Bellarmine.

Trinity, Tex., was the only newcomer in the Top Ten, replacing Lincoln, Mo., in the 10th spot after whipping Abilene Christian.

Tennessee State's jump dropped Akron and Grambling each a notch to fifth and sixth. Indiana State, San Diego State and Pan American retained their positions at seventh, eighth and ninth, respectively.

The Top Ten with first-place votes and points on a 10-9-etc. basis:

1. South, Illinois (13) 139
2. Ky. Wesleyan (1) 124
3. Cheney State (3) 89
4. Tenn. State 76
5. Akron 71
6. Grambling 67
7. Indiana State 64
8. San Diego St. 63
9. Pan American 62
10. Trinity, Tex. 50

and Villanova routed Penn 71-54 in other Wednesday games.

For the third straight night, all the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll were idle.

Playing at home, Dayton upped its record to 14-3 by trouncing Canisius behind John Morrison's 22 points. It was the third straight defeat for Canisius. Bob Lloyd scored 38 points in leading Rutgers over Fordham at New Brunswick, N.J. It was the 10th win against two defeats for the Scarlet Knights.

Lynn Phillips' 21 points, including the go-ahead basket that broke a 77-77 tie, gave Southern Methodist its road triumph over Oklahoma City. It was SMU's 11th victory against four defeats.

Dave Reaser flipped in 32 points, 26 of them in the second half, to lead West Virginia to its come-from-behind triumph over Detroit at Morgantown. The Titans led at halftime 44-38.

John Baum's 26 points paced Temple over Lafayette and Joe Crews' 19 led Villanova over Penn in a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

Holy Cross won its fourth straight by beating Dartmouth 75-54 at Worcester, Mass., behind Ed Siudut's 25 points. In other home court triumphs, Western Michigan edged Miami of Ohio 54-50, Wisconsin routed South Dakota 94-53 and Bradley crushed St. Thomas, of Minnesota, 103-78.

On the road, Marshall rallied in the second half to beat Florida State 77-71 and once-beaten St. Peters of New Jersey downed Baltimore Loyola 82-74.

Vikings Over Tigers In Loop Contest

LaMonte's Vikings stomped the Green Ridge Tigers in cage battle Tuesday, 70-46, played at Green Ridge, making the Tiger record rise to 1-18 in the PBCCA conference.

Green Ridge defense held the Vikings to 17 as their offense got off to a good 12 point start in the first quarter. However, the second quarter the Vikings really put on the pressure as they left the Tigers behind 23-9 in quarter scoring, for a big half time lead, 40-21. From there on in, the Tigers trailed through the third and fourth quarters, especially dropping off in the fourth to six points for quarter scoring.

Taking top scoring honors for LaMonte was Wheeler, with 21 points, and for Green Ridge, Ray with 13.

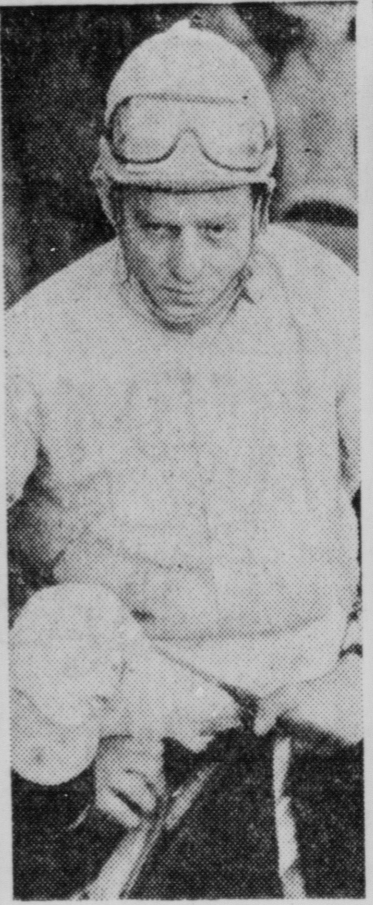

B team action continued LaMonte's winning streak with not quite a smashing 56-41 final score. Viking Dillion scored 12 points and Orr scored nine for the Tigers, taking high B team scoring positions.

LaMonte also downed Green Ridge in girl's volleyball by a score of 28-15. Four girls, Howard, Kelly, Bender, and Clingen shared three points each for Green Ridge, while Thompson of LaMonte scored eight.

The next Green Ridge game will be played this Friday night with Sacred Heart in the S-H gym.

Score by quarters:
LaMonte 17 23 17 10-70
Green Ridge 12 9 19 6-46

Individual scoring: LaMonte—Wheeler, 4-19; Jones, 3-6-12; Mills, 4-9-21; Eckles, 4-0-8; Sevier, 8-1-17; and Campbell, 0-4-1. Green Ridge—Dove, 4-0-8; Ream, 3-1-7; Ray, 5-3-13; Richardson, 3-0-6 Crawford, 2-1-5; Knoernchild, 2-3-7.

Accuracy And Top Scoring Foreseen

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Nebraska-Oklahoma game tonight at Lincoln, Neb., matches the league's top scorer, Don Sidle of Oklahoma, against its most accurate shooter, Stuart Lantz of Nebraska.

Nebraska can move into a four-way tie for first place in Big Eight basketball by defeating Oklahoma. In that event, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado and Kansas State all would have 3-1 records. Oklahoma is 1-1 and could move past Nebraska into fourth place with a victory.

The 6-foot-8 Sidle is scoring at a 27.0 pace in league games, with Don Smith of Iowa State second at 24.6, Lantz third at 21.7 and Tom Baack of Nebraska fourth at 20.7.

In rebounding, Smith is on top over Sidle, 14 to 12 with Missouri's Eugene Jones third at 10.7 and K-State's Galen Frick fourth at 9.5.

This means the Big Eight's weekly afternoon television game Saturday, Oklahoma at Iowa State, matches the league's 1-2 scorers and rebounders. Missouri is at Nebraska Saturday night, with all others idle.

Sidle worked all summer exercising his left arm and hand. This is the secret of his improvement over his rookie season. "Don couldn't hold the ball in his left hand last year without it rolling out," says OU coach Bob Stevens with a smile. "Now he can both shoot and dribble left-handed."

Sidle says "I have more confidence in my moves to the left now."

Oklahoma State's Jack Heron is the leader in foul shooting accuracy with a perfect 11-for-11.

Other scorers in the top 10 are Roger Bohnenstiel of Kansas at 19.0, Ron Coleman of Missouri at 18.7, Pat Frick of Colorado at 16.3, Willie Rogers of Oklahoma at 16.0, Jim Johnson of Oklahoma at 15.5 and Bob Wilson of Kansas at 15.0.

The other rebounders in the first 10 are K-State's Earl Seyfert at 9.3, Lantz 7.7, Rogers and Wilson both 7.5, Raul Duarte of Iowa State 7.4, Bob Bauers of Colorado and Tom Johnson of Missouri, both 7.3.

Behind Lantz in field shooting are Mike Reiblich of Colorado .630, Sidle and Gary Kizzar of Oklahoma both .600, Ron Simmons of Nebraska .563, Lynn Baker of Colorado and Jim Johnson, both .542, Baack, 540 and Vernon Vanoy of Kansas .516.

Coleman is the free throw shooting runner-up at .933, followed by Seyfert .875, Bohnenstiel and Sidle both .867, Lantz .850, Reiblich .833, Baack .800 and Wilson .783.

Want Time To Decide On Next Title Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith's managers want a little time before they make an commitment for their fighter's title defense against Italy's Nino Benvenuti at Madison Square Garden, March 22.

"We haven't had much time to breathe since Emile's win over Joey Archer last Monday night," said Gil Clancy, trainer and manager of the middleweight champion, after a visit to the Garden Wednesday.

Benvenuti, meanwhile, was hoping to get permission from the Italian Boxing Federation and European Boxing Union to delay defense of his European middleweight crown.

The EBU has named Spain's Luis Follo as the official challenger and wants Nino to fight him in the first week of March. The EBU usually doesn't take any nonsense about title defenses. If a champion doesn't defend every six months, he is dethroned.

Harry Markson, the director of boxing for the Garden, said if the title match is made he will telephone the Italian Federation and the EBU to allow Benvenuti extra time.

If Benvenuti gets the fight and wins the world title, he would yield the European title. But if he should lose he wants to hold onto the European diadem, which is a valuable property overseas.

Canadian Baseballer Dies At A Hospital

LONDON, Ont. (AP) —

George Mooney Gibson, 87, the only baseball player to be named to Canada's Sports Hall of Fame and the only Canadian ever to manage a major league baseball team, died Wednesday at Victoria Hospital.

In failing health for the last two years, Gibson had resided at his farm home since retiring from major league baseball in 1944.

He started in professional baseball in 1903 with the Buffalo Bisons of the International League. He managed Pittsburgh and Chicago of the National League during the 1920s and 1930s.

Top S-C Debate Teams To Omaha

Smith-Cotton High School's two top debate teams will travel to Omaha, Neb., this weekend to participate in Marian High School's annual Forensic Tournament, which is the largest debate tournament to be held in this portion of the United States.

Approximately 50 schools from Colorado, Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Missouri will be engaged in debate and dramatic contests at this forensic tournament.

Smith-Cotton's representatives are the team of Craig Cassing and Terry Winebrenner, both seniors, who will be entered in championship division debate, a division for highly experienced, high school debaters. The other team will be that of Harry Lambirth, junior, and Terry Koehn, senior, who will be engaged in novice division debate for first-year debaters.

Emporia Has Slight Time To Rest Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bethany College upset Ottawa in overtime Wednesday night, 58-54, and gave College of Emporia a little breathing space at the top of the Kansas Conference basketball race.

In other games, St. Benedicts ran its record to 13-2 by downing Emporia State, 82-65, the Ravens 26th consecutive home court victory; Warrensburg State edged Pittsburg State, 65-60, and the University of Tennessee, Martin Branch, beat Springfield State, 87-77.

Ottawa was tied for the KCAC lead before losing to C of E last Friday. Wednesday's loss to Bethany knocked the Braves into a second place tie. The Braves trailed throughout the game, taking the lead in the final moments. But Bethany knotted the score at 44-44 at the final buzzer, sending the game into overtime.

Mike Gregory led Bethany with 17 points, while teammate Larry Fuqua scored six points in the overtime.

St. Benedict's built up a 40-33 halftime margin, then expanded it during the second half to grab an easy victory and establish the Ravens as one of the top independents in the area.

Vince DeGreeff and Darryl Jones scored 19 and 16 points, respectively, to lead St. Benedict's, while Dennis Smith of Emporia State took game honors with 21 points.

Calvin Pettit and Sylvester Mitchell led Warrensburg State from a 29-49 halftime tie to a 65-60 victory over Pittsburg State. Pettit finished with 26 points and Mitchell added 17.

Tonight, McPherson travels to Kansas Wesleyan, Tabor is at Sterling, William Penn of Iowa plays at Culver-Pennstock and Washington of St. Louis is at home for Wisconsin, Milwaukee Branch.

Celtics Get Invitations To 2 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Basketball Association schedule invited the Boston Celtics out twice this week, but the Celtics stuck Philadelphia and Detroit with the bill.

Playing the ungrateful guest, the Celtics first stuffed themselves with a victory at the expense of Philadelphia's 36-game home court winning streak Tuesday night.

Wednesday night, the Celtics feasted on the Pistons 112-105, extending Detroit's losing streak at home to eight, tying a club record.

Elsewhere, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati beat the New York Knicks for the second time in two nights, 132-125, and St. Louis survived a last half collapse and edged the Chicago Bulls 103-102 in Chicago, and on the West Coast the Los Angeles Lakers whipped the Baltimore Bullets 128-115.

Sam Jones and John Havlicek got the biggest kick out of the evening in Detroit as the Celtics won their sixth straight. The pair scored 21 points in the final period to turn a dull evening into a sparkler for the Celtics.

Jones scored nine of his 30 points in the quarter and Havlicek 12 of his 28 as Boston overcame a seven-point deficit in the final 10 minutes.

Robertson, who scored 37 points to beat the Knicks in New York the night before, matched that total as the Royals lost a 74-57 halftime lead and then came from behind in the last eight minutes in Cincinnati.

St. Louis had a 53-31 lead melt into a 99-93 deficit before Zelmo Beaty and Bill Bridges tied the count at 100. Beaty then made it 102-100 and Bridges' free throw made it 103-101.

Tigers In Tourney At Clinton

The Smith-Cotton varsity Tigers of Coach Paul Schwartz open their third tournament cage action Thursday. The Tigers have won three and lost two so far this year in tournaments, placing fourth in the Boonville Turkey Tournament and winning the championship in the Marshall Holiday Tournament. This third tournament will be played on the Clinton Cardinal court in Clinton.

The Bengals, seeded as second will be having strong competition from seven of the toughest schools in the area. The top seeded team, Adrian, will be bringing the best record into the games with 12 wins and two losses.

The S-C cagers, 6-6 this year, will play their first game against Sherwood, 6-4, at 7:30 p.m., Thursday. The Tigers' competition in the second contest will be either the winner or loser of the California-Clinton tilt, depending, of course, on whether the Bengals win or lose. If the Tigers win both games, they will advance to the finals at 9 p.m. on Saturday against the upper bracket winner. The other games the Tigers could wind up in are the consolation game at 6 p.m. or the third place tilt at 7:30.

The action in the upper bracket begins a day before the initial Tiger tilt, and will be pairing top seeded Adrian against Knob Noster and Butler against Windsor.

The teams competing in the tournament, their records, and their seeded position are Adrian (1), 12-2; Knob Noster, 5-5; Butler (4), 7-4; Windsor, 1-10; Sedalia (2), 6-6; Sherwood, 6-4; California, (3), 9-6, and Clinton, 5-6.

Seniors Usually Talk Only 'Shop'

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — When the contestants in the 28th annual PGA Seniors' Teacher Trophy Championship convene for their daily sunset vigil their talk often veers to golf right after the war.

With the 402 contenders all more than 50 years of age, the war they refer to more often than not is World War I. But when George Livingstone of Nashville, Tenn., tosses in an observation it could be the Spanish-American War he is thinking about.

He is an 86-year-old defending champion in Division 8, for players over 85.

A year ago he went around the national PGA course, where par is 36-36-72, in 47-48-95. Then he participated in a driving contest for super seniors over 75 and grabbed fourth place with a belt of 181 yards.

The years have treated the wiry little Tennessee and his game kindly. Though definitely matured he still stands erect and his short stature is topped off by an adequate mane of white hair. He still is arrow-straight off the tee.

The $40,000 tournament, which begins today and ends Sunday, is divided into eight divisions according to age. Those in the tournament proper, including Freddie Haas of New Orleans, the defending champion, must play 72 holes.

The winner will get a check for $3,500 and an all expense-paid trip to England to meet the winner of the similar British tournament.

Sam Snead, twice a Seniors champion; Dutch Harrison, who competed last weekend in the Bing Crosby at Pebble Beach, Calif.; Chandler Harper, Marty Furgol, and John Barnum are recent members of the year-long PGA tour who will be competing here.

Rejection Saves Lots Of Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — "There's not much I can do about it," said Red Ruffing when they told him the news. "I'm not going to worry."

Ruffing, the former great pitcher for the New York Yankees, narrowly missed being elected to baseball's Hall of Fame Wednesday. He finished in a tie with Joe Medwick, former outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, with 212 votes, just seven short of the number needed for election.

Roy Campanella, former catcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was a close third with 204 votes. For election, a player had to receive 75 per cent of the 292 votes cast by baseball writers.

A run-off between the top 31 vote-getters will be held in February and with a reduced field, Ruffing, Medwick or Campanella would seem to have a good chance of election. Barring a tie, only one player can be elected in the run-off.

Of the 68 players eligible for election, 48 received votes. This year's balloting was unusual in that no election was scheduled, but several ineligible players received votes last year, so the special election was decided upon.

The balloting next month will be Ruffing's last chance for election by writers to the Hall, since eligibility for election ends 20 years after retirement. Ruffing left the majors in 1947 after 22 seasons in which he compiled a career record of 273 victories, 255 losses and a 7-2 World Series mark.

Teams Split All-Star Spots Evenly

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers battling for the National Hockey League lead most of the season, have split the six first team All Star berths down the middle.

Each club grabbed three berths on the first half All Star squad with New York goalie Ed Giacomin and defenseman Harry Howell and Chicago center Stan Mikita unanimous choices in the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities.

The other Black Hawks chosen were Bobby Hull at left wing and Pierre Pilote on defense. The third Ranger selection was right winger Rod Gilbert.

Every club in the league had one man chosen on the second team, the first time in seven years that's happened.

Charlie Hodge of Montreal was selected as goalie with Toronto's Tim Horton and Boston's Bobby Orr chosen on defense. Center Norm Ullman of Detroit, left wing Donnie Marshall of New York and right wing Ken Wharram of Chicago complete the second unit.

Giacomin, Howell and Mikita each polled the maximum 90 points. Hull received 84 points, Gilbert 80 and Pilote 70 in the voting.

Selection to the first team carries a $500 bonus from the league. Players chosen for the second team receive $250 each.

Gogolak Will Try Hitch With Army

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pete Gogolak, believed to have prompted the merger of the National and American football leagues by forsaking Buffalo of the AFL for New York of the NFL, now is leaving the Giants — for the Army.

The Hungarian-born place-kicker was inducted into military service Wednesday at Fort Dix and apparently will be lost for the 1967 season. He could be available for weekend kicking if he stays at Fort Dix.

Gogolak, 24, failed his physical tests last summer because of a childhood spinal injury. The government, however, has since relaxed physical requirements, and Gogolak passed the second test.

Gogolak left the Bills of the then rival AFL at the end of the 1965 season. Many felt his departure brought to a head the struggle between the leagues by opening the possibility of player raids. The merger followed a short time later.

Gogolak, who attended Cornell, and his younger brother, Charley, who attended Princeton, first stepped into the national spotlight by setting collegiate field goal and extra point records with their revolutionary soccer-style kicking methods. Charley now plays for the Washington Redskins of the NFL.

Buckpasser Is Again Hit By An Injury

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Buckpasser, the 1966 Horse of the Year, is suffering again from a hoof injury, and unless the accompanying inflammation subsides, the famed 4-year-old will miss the $100,000-added Strub Stakes Saturday at Santa Anita.

Eddie Nelay, trainer of the Ogden Phipps-owned colt, said Wednesday that Buckpasser suffered recurrence of a quarter-crack in the right forefoot. The ailment kept Buckpasser out of the Triple Crown races as a 3-year-old.

Buckpasser, with a patch on the damaged hoof, galloped Wednesday on the muddy training track, and the son of Tom Fool will be entered today for the 1 1/4 mile Strub Stakes.

No 'Crash' Plan Foreseen In Toll Road Bid

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Will W. Davis, press secretary to Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, said Wednesday night the governor's toll road proposal has never envisioned duplication of existing or possible routes.

"It is not the governor's idea that a 'crash' program is necessary," Davis said. "He has repeatedly emphasized that 'feasibility' must be the brake and the watchword."

Davis made his comments in addressing a short course on ready mixed concrete and concrete aggregates.

He said the governor's idea is to place the economic burden of construction and maintenance of toll turnpikes directly upon those who use them and benefit by them.

He said no specific routes have been determined but there is no question of the need for a faster route from north Missouri to south-central Missouri and from Kansas City to southeast Missouri.

"I join the governor in viewing with dismay the steadily decreasing population in Missouri's north-central agricultural counties and in the south-central Ozarks region," Davis said. "Adequate highways may easily hold the answer for life and death to communities in these areas."

The Senate Roads and Highways Committee has scheduled a hearing on the toll road proposal next Wednesday.

Change In War Appears To Be Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says the war in Vietnam is nearing a significant turning point: The Viet Cong apparently are running out of volunteers in South Vietnam and may be forced to rely more on the North for future fighting men.

"We believe that any net increase (in enemy troops) during 1967 will have to come from North Vietnam" the defense chief told senators in testimony released Wednesday night. "The local supply of manpower is growing more limited with each succeeding year."

McNamara said the allied war efforts were so successful last year that "during the last half of 1966, the Viet Cong appear to have lost about as many men as they were able to infiltrate from North Vietnam and recruit in South Vietnam."

This emerged as a highlight of a lengthy position paper McNamara gave congressmen Monday shortly before he began testimony on the administration's request for a $12.3-billion supplemental appropriation to help finance the war through June. He finished testifying Wednesday before the Senate Armed Forces Committee and the Defense Appropriations subcommittee meeting jointly.

In other key developments: Washington sources revealed that the Johnson administration has barred all U.S. bombing flights within five miles of the center of Hanoi.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a gathering of ambassadors to Washington he hopes that "during the year 1967 we shall see peace in Southeast Asia."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee announced that Harrison E. Salisbury, a New York Times assistant managing editor who recently returned from Hanoi, will testify at hearings next week.

The Canadian Press reported that the United States has refused a Canadian request not to use Canadian-purchased arms in the Vietnam war.

In his summing up, McNamara reiterated that the Viet Cong no longer are capable of a military victory. He said the key to ultimate victory, however, lies in the government's pacification program. He also noted again that the U.S. build-up in Vietnam will slow this year.

St. Louis Man Dies In Automobile Wreck

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Robert Bates, 28, of St. Louis was struck by an auto and killed Wednesday as he crossed an intersection in near North St. Louis.

The driver of the auto, identified as Jewel Davis, 25, of St. Louis was booked on suspicion of manslaughter and driving while intoxicated, police said.

Clemente Is Among Top Paid Men

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roberto Clemente has joined the select group of $100,000 a year major league baseball players.

The National League's Most Valuable Player in 1966 signed Wednesday to play again for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are expected by many to win the 1967 pennant.

Eddie Mathews, recently traded to Houston by Atlanta, signed a reported $50,000 contract with the Astros in another star signing Wednesday.

Clemente, a hard-hitting outfielder with a lifetime average of .310, said he had "no problems whatsoever" in agreeing on terms with Joe L. Brown, the Pirate general manager.

Clemente said only that he got a raise, but a Pittsburgh spokesman indicated $100,000 would be about right making Clemente the highest paid player in Pirate history.

Other players in the $100,000 class include Frank Robinson of Baltimore, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

DiMaggio, Williams, Koufax and Musial are retired.

The most Babe Ruth, the famed home run slugger, ever received in one year from the Yankees was $80,000 in the pre-inflation era of more than 30 years ago.

Mathews, a veteran third baseman who hopes to reach the career plateau of 500 homers this season, became the highest paid player in the six-year history of the Astros. His reported $50,000 compares to the previous Astro high of $42,000 to Nellie Fox in 1964.

"I feel I should break 511 this year," Mathews said at the signing. He currently is tied with Lou Gehrig for sixth place at 493 on the all-time home run list.

Relief pitcher Dick Radatz and catcher Duke Sims agreed to terms with Cleveland, pitcher Wally Bunker with Baltimore and relief pitcher Casey Cox and first baseman Dick Nen with Washington in other Wednesday signings.

Worship Or Not?

Almighty Dollar Becomes An Anemic American Idol

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happened to the almighty dollar, which many foreigners claim Americans worship?

If we do, we are bowing down to an anemic idol. For, like the old gray mare, the almighty dollar ain't what it used to be.

As a matter of fact, the almighty dollar looks like a mighty sick buck. It has been suffering weakening relapses for a long time now, and it is unlikely that any miracle medicine will be found that can restore it completely to its youthful vigor.

Everything in life tends to lose strength as it passes its prime and begins to age. This is as generally true of paper currencies as it is of people.

Faithful friends of the almighty dollar try to keep up a good front by telling it:

"You're looking great, champ. You're still every bit the man that you used to be."

But this is merely hollow hope talking. The dollar may still be a long, long way from the financial graveyard, but it will probably never again be the big strong buck of yore.

Now and then an event occurs that forces us to realize what inflationary malnutrition has done to the value of the dollar. Such a happening last week was the disclosure that shoe-shines in some areas here have gone up to 35 cents—and that doesn't include the tip.

"Thirty-five cents for a shoe-shine!" the unbelieving cry went up. "What can happen next?"

Well, that is pretty easy to prophesy. The cost of shoeshines in time will go to 50 cents, then 75 cents, and the—probably before man starts building real estate developments on the moon—to one dollar.

There are babies being born right now who will even live to see that day when they will pay $2 for a shoeshine—$1 for each shoe.

Anyone who is over 50 and who has weathered a number of depressions and several hot and cold wars also has a melancholy awareness of the various steps in the erosion of the dollar in his lifetime.

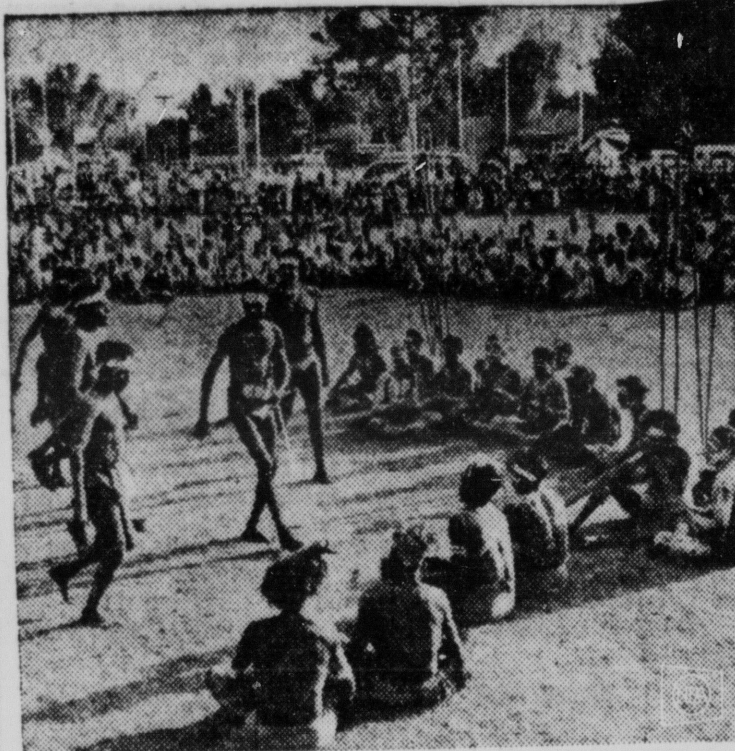

There are fond tears of memory in his voice as he quavers:

"Why, I can remember when you could see a movie for a dime, buy milk or seven cents a quart, get a haircut for a quarter, a shave for 15 cents, a pound of hamburger for 13 cents, and two packs of cigarettes for a quarter."

"Yessiree, Bob, and I can remember when you could get a decent hotel room for $2 a night, a pair of shoes for $4, and hire a plumber all day for what he now charges you per hour. Anybody who paid more than $20 for a suit with two pairs of pants was a rich man."

"Why, I can even remember when you could buy an automobile for $700 or less."

Young people today find this hard to believe, but once-upon-a-time it was all so. They just live in a day when the dollar

24th Day Of Month Bad Time For Union

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The Tunnel and Rock Workers Union may have to send its cash assets to the bank on the 24th of each month.

On May 24, 1966, burglars broke into the union's offices in downtown Vancouver, pried open the safe and escaped with $250. The union bought another safe.

On Sept. 24, 1966, burglars again broke into the office, smashed up the new safe, but didn't manage to get inside it. The union bought another safe.

On Jan. 24, this year, burglars broke in again and this time took the complete new 550-pound safe and the $2,300 it contained.

The union hasn't decided if it will purchase a new one.

Culp Will Play Two Roles Soon

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Culp, officially on vacation from his cloak and dagger assignments on NBC's "I Spy," dropped into Manhattan this week disguised as a salesman.

Disguised, probably, is too strong a word since Culp was highly visible lunching in a restaurant beside the Rockefeller Center skating rink.

Culp has wound up his second year costarring with Bill Cosby in the adventure series. His New York assignment is drumming up advance interest in the Feb. 1 episode of the show, "Warlord." Culp wrote, adapted it for the series and plays two parts in it. He will be, of course, Kelly Robinson, his usual secret agent role. But he will also play the title role, a Chinese of noble birth involved in a love affair with a rich girl kidnapped for ransom.

"I wrote it six years ago — for a single character," Culp said. "Then the show came along and I got it off the shelf and adapted it. You'd never recognize me in the second part under all the makeup. But I just had to play that part and finally let me have it."

Culp has written six other scripts for the series, pounding out all of them in a four-month period before the series started in the fall of 1965.

"I Spy," up among the top 20 Nielsen shows, will certainly return next season. Culp and Cosby will go to Greece and Morocco in April for six weeks of concentrated location shooting.

Culp is 36, a native of Berkeley, Calif., and started acting professionally with a four-line part in a Broadway show 15 years ago. His marriage broke up several months ago and he is engaged to actress Frances Nuyen. They expect to marry when his divorce is final.

Perry Como's NBC special Wednesday night was a pleasant change of pace — from sleepy to lively. Singer Eddy Arnold and guitar player Chet Atkins added some "Nashville sound."

Article By Dr. Richards Is Published

An article appeared in the Memphis Press-Scimitar, on Thursday, Jan. 12, on a talk given by Dr. John Richards, assistant visual training director of the Southern College of Optometry, on "Beware the Playpen."

Dr. Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Richards, Route 4, and a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School in the class of 1961, pointed out that too many mothers, when the baby begins crawling and getting into everything, buys a playpen and dumps the baby in it. As a result, he continued, the little fellow can't develop adequate visual patterns.

A child, he pointed out, has to be able to explore and investigate the world he is living in. Unless he does, he will have problems with his vision.

Dr. Richards said, vision, as it is defined today, is not merely seeing clearly. It is more than just two eyeballs rolling around in your head. It is learning to understand the significance to their lives what they see — the sharp corners that they have to go around, the coffee table they had to duck their heads to get under, the tops of things like chairs, and tables that support objects, and the flickering flame that burns them.

Dr. Richards is also a student at the Memphis University working on his special education degree.
